

SCIENTIST CHURCH SEEKS EXEMPTION IN DOCTORS' BILL

Delegations From St. Louis and Kansas City Urge Legislators to Exclude Practitioners Under Act.

SET UP PLEA OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

Measure Would Make It a Felony to Practice Medicine Without License
From State Board.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 12.—Large delegations from Christian Science churches in St. Louis and Kansas City came here yesterday afternoon to ask the Senate and House to amend pending bills tightening up the medical practices act so as to exclude Christian Science practitioners from provisions of the act on the ground they were exercising their rights of religious freedom.

Approximately 250 Christian Scientists attended two meetings of the Senate and House Committees on Criminal Jurisprudence, which are considering the medical practice bills pending in each house.

Spokesmen for the Christian Scientists declared they were not opposing the bills, designed to "clean house" in the medical profession, but urged adoption of a provision that the act "shall not apply to persons treating human ailments by prayer or spiritual means, as an exercise or enjoyment of religious freedom."

The bills provide that any persons practicing medicine or attempting to treat the sick, without a license from the State Board of Health, shall be guilty of a felony, punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment in the penitentiary for two years.

Prosecutions Have Failed.
Assistant Attorney General Caruthers, who drafted the bills at the request of the State Board of Health, told the Post-Dispatch correspondent that it was not the intention of the act to include Christian Scientists, but admitted the bill as now drafted would make it possible for prosecutions to be instituted against Christian Scientists practitioners.

He said that he was not much prospect of this, as such prosecutions had failed in the past.

Caruthers also said the bill, if passed, would enable the imprisonment of chiropractors, who are not now licensed by the State board, unless the chiropractors succeed in obtaining passage of a bill now pending in the Legislature, establishing a chiropractic board, and regulating licensing of chiropractors.

Other sections of the medical bills, backed by the Board of Health and the State Medical Association, would require applicants for licenses to show satisfactory proof of having attended "throughout" four terms of nine months each in a reputable medical college that "enforces" four-year requirements. The present law only requires proof of having received a diploma from a reputable medical college of four years' requirements.

Would End Fraud Practice.
This section is designed to prevent licenses being obtained with diplomas or educational credentials fraudulently acquired. The State Board last week cited 60 physicians on charges that their licenses had been obtained through fraudulent means, or that they had made false statements.

Dr. James Stewart, secretary of the Board of Health, said that under the present law the hands of the board are tied. The proposed changes, he said, "were to enable the medical profession to clean house." He said he did not believe the proposed changes would affect Christian Scientists, but added that if any person died without having received medical care, the death should be investigated by the coroner.

Raise Examination Standards.
Other proposed changes raise the standards for examinations for licenses, and would enable the secretary of the State Board of Health to investigate alleged violations of the medical practice act and file complaints with the prosecuting attorney.

Arthur P. de Camp of St. Louis, a member of the Publication Committee of the Christian Science Church in Missouri, declared the medical profession had interfered with Christian Scientists in the past, but no convictions had been obtained. He declared Christian Scientists were not attempting to practice medicine, but were exercising their right to religious freedom. De Camp urged the church "be taken out from under a cloud" by specific exclusion from provisions of the act.

St. Louisans Are Heard.
John D. Johnson, St. Louis attorney, said, "We do not think the healing virtue is with the medical doctors. I always thought the medical profession too high-toned to attempt to suppress a religious organization."

BETTING LIMITED TO PARI-MUTUELS IN RACING BILL

In dollars and cents to the live stock industry of the State.

R. A. Ellis, member of the House from Barry County, was the only outspoken opponent of the bill. His argument was that legalizing the recording of bets at race tracks would place temptation before the youths of the State.

It was brought out at the hearing that under the heavy daily losses for racing associations which could operate under the pari-mutuel statute if it is enacted, probably would be limited to St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, as those are the only cities in the State which are large enough to support a race meeting under the heavy expense.

Marvin said that a racing park with a one-mile track would require about 50 acres of ground and would cost nearly $1,000,000.

Commits, Consents and Stone Confer With Coolidge About Warren.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The nomination of Charles B. Warren for the attorney-generalship, was the subject of several conferences today at the White House.

Chairman Cummings of the Senate Judiciary Committee, who shares in the doubts of other administration leaders as to the possibility of confirming Warren's nomination at this session, was the first caller to go into conference with the President. Later he called on the President, before which the nomination is pending, would not be called together in advance of its regular meeting Monday.

Attorney-General Stone later saw the President regarding the Warren nomination, and Senator Cummings (Rep.), Michigan, who had indicated Gov. Coolidge for the attorney-generalship, laid his views before Mr. Coolidge.

Russia to Co-operate With League.

GENEVA, Feb. 12.—Russia took another step toward the League of Nations when it informed Geneva yesterday that Charles Lepine has been appointed to represent Moscow on the commission to study unification of tonnage, which will meet at Paris this month. This will mark the first actual co-operation of Russia with the league.

were Alderman John H. Brod, Clarence H. Howard, and Mrs. Laura H. Edwards of St. Louis, John T. Harding, L. B. Sawyer and Mrs. Louise Knight Cook of Kansas City.

Robert P. Colyer, president of the St. Louis Chiropractic College, appearing before a Senate committee on a pending bill establishing a State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, said, "The medical doctors of Missouri have enough to do to clean their own house, without opposing the chiropractors."

In the light of recent developments in the medical profession in Missouri, Colyer said, "I am surprised that there is any opposition here." He referred to the charges of fraudulent obtaining of medical licenses, under investigation by the State Board of Health.

Starkloff Chiropractors' foe.

Health Commissioner Starkloff of St. Louis appeared in opposition to the bill, declaring the requirements in the chiropractic colleges were inadequate, that many persons practicing chiropractic are illiterate and charged they are not qualified to practice healing the sick.

The bill would provide recognition of chiropractors in Missouri, prescribe subjects to be taught in chiropractic colleges, establish a State Board of Examiners and provide for licensing of chiropractors.

CRACKSMEN GET $800 AT DELMAR THEATER

Loot Comprised Night's Receipts From Five Motion Picture Shows.

Last night's receipts from five moving picture theaters, aggregating between $500 and $1000 cash, were stolen by burglars who battered open the office safe of the Delmar Theater, Delmar boulevard and Aubert avenue.

The robbery was discovered at 3 a. m. today, when a negro porter opened the theater to begin his cleaning. The combination of the safe had been hammered off and the door pried open with a two-foot pinch bar, which was left behind. It is thought the robbers separated themselves in the theater about 11 p. m. and departed by opening one of the side doors, which have automatic outside locks. There were no marks to indicate a door had been forced.

Edward E. Parnes, manager of the theater, said the money comprised the receipts from the Delmar, Plaza, Criterion, Congress and Yale theaters, all of which are owned and operated by the Super Theaters Corp., of which Hector Parnes, the Greek Consul, is president. It has been customary for some time, he said, to gather the money at about 11 p. m. and deposit it in the Delmar Theater safe for the night.

E. ST. LOUIS POLICEMAN WHO ARRESTED OWN WIFE RESIGNS

Officer Accused Helpmate of Attacking Him and Woman Who Had Asked Directions.

Traffic Officer Emil Weidenhoffer of the East St. Louis police force, who arrested his wife Tuesday, resigned today.

Weidenhoffer accused his wife of attacking him and a strange woman, who had asked directions. Mrs. Weidenhoffer, however, said the woman was a stranger to Weidenhoffer, and he had been giving her "directions" for half an hour while they stood in a doorway at Collinsville and Missouri avenues.

STATE SENATE COMMITTED AGAINST ANY TAX INCREASE

cus probably will have a more disastrous influence on the State University appropriation than on any other. The Board of Curators prepared a budget which, to meet the university requirements, called for appropriations totaling $4,500,000 for two years.

The State Tax Commission, in its budget, figured that on the revenue in sight from the present tax rate and the other sources of revenue would justify an appropriation to the University of only $2,500,000.

The commission found it necessary to lop off $4,000,000 from the requested appropriation. This could be voted by the Legislature if it would increase the State tax rate 5 cents on the $100, which would amount to only $250 on a $5000 assessed valuation, or if other sources of revenue were found.

But, instead, the caucus holds that neither the State tax rate, nor the income tax rate, nor the corporation franchise tax rate shall be increased, nor shall there be placed a tax on cigarettes or on anything not now taxed, regardless of the needs of the State.

TELLS WALES TO VISIT HOME SLUMS BEFORE TOURING WORLD

Scotch Member, Attacking Cost of Prince's Trip, Renews Invitation to "See Glasgow."

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Discussion of the supplementary estimate for the extended tour the Prince of Wales is to make to Africa and South America brought out some caustic comment in the House of Commons this afternoon from David Kirkwood, Labor member for the Dumbarton Burghs, who moved a resolution in the amount of a protest against "all this humbug that's going on."

Another meeting of the elementary board was held yesterday at Nevada, but the deadlock continued. All the board members attended. They divided 3 to 3 on granting the Governor's demands for his personal selections for jobs.

Pierce was a recess appointee of former Gov. Hyde and his term would have expired in 1927. His name was sent to the Senate by Hyde just before he went out of office, but was recalled by Baker.

By the Associated Press.
MELILLA, Morocco, Feb. 12.—There was a widespread report here today that Abd-el-Krim, leader of the rebellious Moors, was dead as the result of wounds. The Spanish authorities are seeking confirmation.

Since Dec. 7, when Abd-el-Krim dropped out of sight, the authorities have been unable to ascertain his whereabouts. Several times before the Moorish leader had been reported dead. According to the latest report, which emanated from the native headquarters, the Moorish leader died from a wound received in an ambush early in December. Another report was that he had been poisoned. Native informers declare that great excitement prevailed among the Rifians because of the rumors of the chief's death.

GETS SIX YEARS FOR THEFTS
Upon his plea of guilty to three charges of larceny from a dwelling house, Paul Davis, alias Allen Paul, of 534 North Vandeventer avenue, was sentenced by Circuit Judge Taylor today to six years in the penitentiary.

He confessed entering a rooming house at 4011 Page boulevard, Jan. 18 last, and robbing three of the roomers, part of the loot being recovered in his own room. Davis was released from the Missouri Penitentiary June 7, 1924, after serving a four-year sentence for theft, interrupted when he escaped in December, 1922, subsequently being recaptured.

PETER GOUNIS AGAIN HELD FOR POSSESSING LIQUOR

Roadhouse Proprietor Is Arrested After Prosecutor Finds Old Affidavit.

Peter Gounis, Meramec Highlands roadhouse proprietor, called one of "four notorious law violators" by a former grand jury, was arrested again today under a warrant issued by Prosecuting Attorney Mueller, charging possession of intoxicating liquor. He was released on $2000 bond to appear for a preliminary hearing Tuesday.

Kirkwood proceeded with a rather rambling complaint that on the occasion of one of the Prince's visits to Glasgow he declined an invitation that Kirkwood, as county editor, sent him to come and dine with others in a Glasgow restaurant where they "would talk to him about those parts of the city they were desirous he should see." (This was an allusion to the notorious Clyde "slum" scandals.)

Kirkwood continued that he still extended that invitation to the Prince to come and see places and conditions such as he would not see either among the aborigines of Africa or Australia, nor in Argentina, but among the working folk of West Scotland.

BAKER OUSTS PIERCE FROM STATE BOARD

He Had Opposed Appointment of Governor's Brother-in-Law to Asylum Post.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 12.—Gov. Baker, foiled by three members of the State Elementary Board in an effort to force the board to appoint his brother-in-law to a job, today removed W. C. Pierce, a member, that his will might be carried out.

Pierce, a Republican member, was a leader in the insurrection in the board to prevent personal politics from being injected into its non-political organization.

Today the Governor sent to the Senate the name of C. F. Bloker of Caruthersville to succeed Pierce. Bloker is a banker and an original Baker-for-Governor Republican.

The Governor, when asked if he believed the removal of Pierce and the appointment of Bloker would change the attitude of the board, said, "I believe it will," but he refused to discuss the matter any further.

Baker reappointed W. P. Fulkerson of St. Joseph, Republican, and Frank L. Forlow of Webb City, Mo., to the board. Fulkerson, a Democrat, and Forlow, a Republican, were members of the board when Arthur J. Pitts, a Democrat, was removed from the board.

As has been related, the board was deadlocked in a recent meeting over Baker's instructions that the stewards of the State hospitals at Nevada and St. Joseph be removed. Baker directed that the places be filled by appointment of Charles Gilpin, Republican, of St. Joseph, who married a sister of Baker's wife, and Luther Wilson, Democrat, of Nevada, who supported Baker in the campaign.

Fitzsimmons and Pierce opposed the appointments in the meeting here on the ground the positions now were filled by capable men. Pierce declared the institutions had been kept out of politics in recent years, and he did not think politics should be injected now.

Another meeting of the elementary board was held yesterday at Nevada, but the deadlock continued. All the board members attended. They divided 3 to 3 on granting the Governor's demands for his personal selections for jobs.

Pierce was a recess appointee of former Gov. Hyde and his term would have expired in 1927. His name was sent to the Senate by Hyde just before he went out of office, but was recalled by Baker.

$300 FINE AFFIRMED AGAINST MAN ARRESTED 35 TIMES

James Palmer, Negro Service Car Driver, Now Has $800 in Fines Against Him.

James Palmer, 25 years old, negro service car driver who has been arrested 35 times for traffic law violations in St. Louis, has little luck in the appeals courts.

Yesterday Palmer was in Judge Gayer's division of Court of Criminal Correction on an appeal from a $50 fine imposed last month in Police Court. He got a change of venue to Judge Calvin Miller's division, where the Judge not only confirmed the fine, but increased it to $300, the maximum. Today, with another appeal before Judge Gayer on a fine of $200 Palmer took no chances, and did not ask for a transfer. Judge Gayer sustained the original verdict, and, as a result, Palmer has $800 in fines against him, which, it is understood, he will appeal to a higher court.

Palmer, according to police records, has been arrested 35 times for traffic violations of one kind or another, and has been fined 11 times. The thirty-fourth arrest, for violating a traffic policeman's signal, at Eighteenth street and Washington avenue, resulted in the $50 fine, and the thirty-fifth arrest, for parking in a restricted district, resulted in the $300 fine.

steward at State hospital No. 2, and one Luther Wilson of Nevada, steward at the State hospital located in that city.

"It should be remembered that four years ago a law was passed and a board created thereunder having for its purpose the taking of the State elementary institutions out of the realm of politics which they had been a foothold for years and years. All officers and employees were given to understand that those who rendered good and efficient service would be secure in their places except for changes in the state administration, that service and service alone would be the test."

"Compliance with the Governor's wishes called for the removal by the board of C. C. Graves, Steward at State Hospital No. 2, and Steward at the State Hospital No. 2, both of whom had rendered efficient service and both of whom had the commendation of every member of the board present at the meeting and for no reason assigned for such removal except in the first instance, to make a berth for the Governor's brother-in-law and in the second place to make one for a brother Knight of Pythias."

"I called on the Governor and went into the matter fully with him, explaining the board's workings and the results accomplished and among other things told him there were no vacancies and to arbitrarily make the same by the removal of efficient men without cause destroyed the foundation that we had been building for four years and gave the lie to every statement we had made during that time. He persisted in his demands. I refused to be a party to a step backward policy."

right others, two of whom are directly implicated in holdups. The names, after being ascertained, will be given to the public. The names of the holdup men, who are being sought by the police, are: Charles E. Carleton, a holdup man, who is on a note for $200 on which the First National Bank loaned Wootan money. But Wootan himself placed Carleton's signature to the $200 note. He used a similar method, he said, on notes to which he signed the names of R. A. Armistead, a strong, former president of the street car men's union, and other friends.

Some Loans Repaid.
Some of the loans made by Wootan were legitimate and the banks which advanced them were able to collect. The Telegraphers National Bank advanced him $750 in August on the signature of his friend, a doctor known to the institution, but the bank forced collection Dec. 8 last after it had become suspicious of Wootan. It was announced today that the institution had collected in full.

"Then there were the jewelry time payment houses," Wootan said. "I used to buy rings, pay a small amount down and then pawn them when I needed the money. Of course, I had to keep up the payments and that made it necessary to get more money somehow. I estimate that in the past few months I was paying out $500 or $600 monthly in installments to time payment and loan concerns."

Three Automobiles on Credit.
Three automobiles, also bought on time payments, figured in the financial career of less than a year which has lodged Wootan in the holdup man's line. The automobiles have been standing in front of the police station since Monday.

When the police succeed in unearthing enough of his transactions comprehensively enough to present them to the Circuit Attorney, Wootan will be moved. Until that time he will continue to receive his former friends in the holdover.

The former motorman is 32 years of age, and for all his earnings of the past year is dressed in a cheap blue suit and wears a gold cap. His face is covered now with a stubble of beard and he seems mournfully at a pipe as he sits here in his story.

"I came here to get off the farm," he told reporters. "I kept getting into debt and couldn't find my way out. I guess I should have stayed on the farm."

Wootan's home is at 4 Rugsby street. Yesterday his wife visited him in the police station, and he carried her to the penitentiary.

ARMS TAKEN IN RAID ON MAXWELTON CLUB

Search for Liquor in Extra Hangout Results in Finding Weapons and Ammunition.

Maxwellton Club, the Olive street road hangout of the Egan gang, was raided late yesterday afternoon by Constable George Roth of Central Township and several deputies. Rifles, automatic pistols, shotguns and ammunition were seized in the raid, which was primarily in a search for liquor. No liquor was found.

Roth and his men descended on the club shortly before dark. As is known, "Dinty" Colbeck, leader of the gang, and most of his associates are in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth under a 15-year sentence for participating in the $54,000 mail robbery at Staunton, Ill., and a 15-year current sentence for the $2000 mail robbery here in April. The club is being operated as usual with two negroes and a white man in charge.

In the barroom the raiders found a box of shotgun shells loaded with buckshot, a box of clip Winchester rifles, another box of clips for a Springfield, a box of .38-caliber automatic pistol cartridges and a box of dice.

Upstairs the raiders seized two high-powered rifles, one a Springfield and the other a Winchester. They also found a .45-caliber automatic pistol, a .38-caliber rifle, two shotguns and a .22-caliber rifle. The weapons and ammunition were brought to Clayton, where they will be held until claimed.

Hogan's Bar Raided.
Deputies of Sheriff Wilmar last night made dry raids on the South Broadway soft drink bar, including the establishment of Howard J. ("Jellyroll") Hogan, a regular leader of the Hogan gang.

In the Hogan bar at 922 South Broadway deputies under Charles Kick found two pints of alleged home brew. Kick said he was arrested; Hogan said he was a fellow liquid warranted it. The deputies reported no one was in charge of the bar when the raid was made.

In George Healy's bar at 1010 South Broadway, a party led by Deputy Sheriff Pfeiffer seized 10 quarts of home brew and 600 lbs. of mash. Healy and four men known to the police, were arrested.

A third party under Deputy Sheriff Elderworth raided the saloon of Earl Roberts at 2301 South Broadway and arrested Baker after seizing 23 cases of beer and a small quantity of whisky and wine.

CEREMONY IS HELD AT LINCOLN'S TOMB

Sanctity in Which Martyred President Held Home Related by Speaker.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 12.—Pilgrimages from all parts of the Middle West today brought thousands of persons here to celebrate the 116th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln in the city where he spent much of his life and where he is buried. Among the visitors were more than 5000 members of the order of De Molay, a fraternity for boys and young men, and their friends, and hundreds of Boy Scouts.

Special trains arrived early in the day from Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Peoria, Bloomington and other points. Special provision had been made for the entertainment of the visitors. Following breakfast at the Springfield High School building they visited the statehouse and State Centennial Building, Lincoln's home and other points of historical interest in this city and vicinity.

A brief ceremony was held this afternoon at Lincoln's tomb at which short addresses were given. Louis G. Lower, Kansas City, the first member of the De Molay order, placed a wreath upon the tomb to conclude the simple ceremony.

The sanctity in which Lincoln held his home was related by A. L. Bowen, an editorial writer, in an address delivered today before the Lincoln Centennial Association. "However hard-pressed Lincoln was for money, his story-and-a-half white frame house with green shutters never was mortgaged," asserted Mr. Bowen. "His home was used as a haven from the care of his life. He was not social in his makeup or his ambitions and it is not of record that he ever took to his home socially any of the great men who came to see him."

"His home was not the scene of any great event of his career; it was a sacred place because it was the scene of the birth of three sons and the death of one of them. Lincoln's love and affection for his home were inseparable from his consciousness that, in all he had done in life, he expressed his greatest and chiefest achievement."

Lincoln lived in Springfield when a story and a half, white frame house with green shutters was a sign of aristocracy, wealth and social position. Lincoln's home was located on the outskirts, where aristocracy of wealth and social position was wont to build, Mr. Bowen declared. About him lived the prosperous and the leading families of the community. His house and his neighbors were important factors in shaping his destiny. One of the facts brought in the historical sketch was that there was a mortgage on Lincoln's place when he bought it in 1844 from Mr. Charles Dresser. The mortgage remained on the place for four months and then was released by its possessor, Ebenezer Sawyer, of Connecticut. No mention of this mortgage appears in the contract which Lincoln and Dresser made in January, 1844, for the sale of this property. The warranty deed was given on May 2, 1844, and the mortgage was not satisfied until Aug. 30 following.

Illinoisan Dies. From Exposure. By the Associated Press. WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Feb. 12.—Joe B. Henson, 63 years old, the first city attorney of West Frankfort, died from exposure yesterday a few minutes after he was found unconscious on the snow-covered street where he apparently had lain for several hours. A wound over the left eye led police to believe he was stunned by a fall.

Grandmother Knew

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard
But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.
Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lambo, pain and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children.

COMMUNISTS AND FASCISTS

THREATEN TO RENEW RIOTING

French Government Is Accused of Failure to Uphold Right of Free Speech.

Copyright, 1932, by The Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Had blood between Communists and Fascists in Marseilles, growing out of the riots the night of Gen. Edouard de Castelnu's provocative speech at a Catholic meeting, threatens to result in bigger riots. Both sides are preparing for the funeral day of the victims. The Fascists assert they gave orders to their followers not to carry canes that night, relying on the 1200 police to keep order. But they say they will defend themselves next time.

The Government was accused in the chamber yesterday of failure to give the necessary orders to maintain the right of free speech.
Premier Herriot replied the police did the best they could, and said he is prepared to put down disorder whether from Communists or fascists. Deputy Taittinger, editor of La Liberte and considered a leader among the budding Fascists, asserted: "If our friends in Marseilles had known the Communists were preparing a counter demonstration against Gen. de Castelnau they would have taken the necessary precautions.

SITE FOR MINISTERS' HOME

California Tract to Be Given to Pensioned Methodist Clergy.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—A spot near the shore at Pasadena, Cal., has been donated to the Methodist Episcopal Church as a home site for pensioned ministers. Dr. Joseph B. Hingeley, corresponding secretary of the church's Board of Pensions and Relief, has announced.
There are about six acres. In the property, which is known as Sunset Hill, said Dr. Hingeley,
"This property will be divided into lots and will be given to pensioned ministers who care to build homes

there." The land was given by Mrs. Jane Bancroft Robinson. The cornerstone of the first home was laid Saturday.

500 ST. LOUIS BOYS VISIT LINCOLN'S TOMB

Many Gatherings Here Today and Tonight on Birthday of Emancipator.

Five hundred St. Louis boys, members of the Order of De Mo- lay, are on a pilgrimage today to the tomb and home of Abraham Lincoln, at Springfield, Ill., where this afternoon members of De Mo- lay joined in observing the 116th anniversary of the birth of America's Civil War President and emancipator.

In St. Louis many gatherings are scheduled during the day and evening at which speakers will eulogize the martyred President. Offices in the city hall were closed all day in accordance with a statute designating Feb. 12 as a legal holiday. The principal stock and grain exchanges were closed.

The St. Louis De Mo- lay delegation entrained at Union Station at 8:55 a. m. and arrived in Springfield before noon, where they met other delegations from Chicago, Kansas City, Peoria and elsewhere. The exercises were held at the statesman's tomb, where the first De Mo- lay, Louis G. Lower of Kansas City, placed a wreath on the bier.

The St. Louis Chamber of Commerce held a Lincoln luncheon, at which the Rev. Merton S. Rice of Detroit spoke on Lincoln's life and its effect on the nation. At the same hour Arthur Davis, organist of Christ Church Cathedral, played an appropriate Lincoln program.

In the evening the Society of St. Louis Authors will hold a Lincoln dinner at the American Hotel, with the Rev. George R. Dodson, pastor of the Church of the Unity, as the principal speaker. The Catholic Club at Coronado Hotel will hear the Rev. Patrick J. Healy, D. D., professor of church history at the Catholic University of America, at Washington, in a Lincoln address. The Sigma Nu Phi fraternity, at Hotel Claridge, will hear Circuit Judge Grimm, and the St. Louis Elks Lodge, at Elks Hall, will hear Circuit Judge Hamilton. Other Lincoln meetings will be held in the evening by the New Thought League, Frank P. Blair Post, G. A. R., and the Brotherhood Club of Webster Groves Presbyterian Church.

Before the opening of his court this morning Police Judge Matthews requested that all present stand for a moment to honor the memory of Abraham Lincoln, whom he termed one of the greatest commoners that ever lived.

"Perhaps no man has felt the pulse of a people with the understanding of a Lincoln," said Judge Matthews.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

OPTIMISTIC REPORT ON FARM CONDITIONS

Federal Reserve Board Says
Balance With Other Industry Is Best Since 1920.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The Federal Reserve Board reports that agriculture has climbed to a better balance with other industries than at any time since 1920.

The agricultural industry gives no indication, the board's monthly report yesterday said, of receding from its present economic position, which has been reached by a gradual advance beginning in the late last summer.

A similar outlook was presented to the Senate committee by William M. Jardine, a member of the President's agricultural conference, who expressed unalterable optimism for the farming industry, and declared the farmer was passing through a post-war crisis from which his recovery was certain.

Before the House Agricultural Committee Chairman Carey of the conference endorsed a bill framed by Chairman Haugen to carry out the conference recommendations on co-operative marketing, and predicted the Federal co-operative marketing board proposed in the bill would prove of substantial aid to the farmer in marketing his crops provided the "proper type of men made up its original membership."

The Haugen measure would amend the Capper-Volstead act to permit co-operative associations to organize and operate terminal marketing and clearing house organizations without conflict with the antitrust laws so long as the membership was made up exclusively of producers.

The advance of agriculture toward a closer balance with other industries was attributed by the reserve board chiefly to the readjustment of the general price level and the existence of larger marketable crops.

The growth and general activity of business which began in the late summer of 1924, it said, has continued without cessation and this has served to maintain the high level of prices reached by farm products which receded much less than the prices of other commodities in the slump of last summer.

Increase in the buying power of consumers also figured in the benefit derived by agriculture through the year's development, the board said, citing the high record of sales by retailers and the generally heavy volume of wholesale trade late in the year. In addition, the report added, increased factory employment, in a measure, provided stronger markets for the larger farm output of the year.

The advance in the general price level since June, the board continued, "is largely the result of increases in prices of agricultural products."

"Taking the year as a whole," it said, "industry, though more active in recent months, had a smaller volume of output marketed at lower prices than in 1923; agriculture, on the contrary, had a somewhat larger total production than in the previous year, and this was marketed at considerably higher prices."

The board added that a smaller percentage of grain was held on the farms at the beginning of the new year than either at the end of 1923 or 1922. Higher prices for most of the grains encouraged early marketing, it said, and the aggregate volume of crops marketed in the closing months of 1924 was the largest in six years.

Don't look wistfully at winter pleasures

DOES sore throat throw you out of step with winter sports? Don't let it. There's no need of looking longingly at out-door pleasures this time of year because sore throat locks the door.

Guard against this trouble by taking the simple precaution of using Listerine systematically as a preventive for throat irritations and the more serious ills that so often follow.

When you feel that first "dry hitch" on swallowing, gargle with Listerine, the safe antiseptic. Don't let sore throat stand in your way just when you want to feel your best for business or pleasure.

Have Listerine handy always in your bathroom. It's the ideal, safe antiseptic. Its dozens of different uses are fully described on the circular that comes around every bottle.—Lambert Pharmacal Company, Saint Louis, U. S. A.

LISTERINE Throat Tablets, containing the germicide of Listerine, are now available. While no foodstuffs admit that no tablet or candy lozenge can compare with the Listerine antiseptic oils in their value as a very valuable aid to relief for throat irritation.

SAYS SHACKLED PRISONERS WERE BEATEN ON BARE BODIES

For Colorado Prison Officer Testifies He Was Suspended by Warden for Telling "Some Things."

DENVER, Feb. 12. — Declaring he had been let out as acting Captain of prison guards because he told "some of the things that went on inside the prison walls," John B. Johnson of Canon City, took the stand yesterday to testify in support of former Gov. Sweet's charges of prison mismanagement against Thomas J. Tynan, Warden of the Colorado penitentiary.

"Last June, the morning after the publication of an affidavit sworn to by me, revealing some of the modes of punishment used in the prison," Johnson said, "I was called into the office of Deputy Warden Buchanan and told I had been suspended. 'You're the best man I ever had, but Tynan called his brother, the late King Edward, as society leader in the British colony along the coast.'"

There has been a whirl of events unequalled in any previous year. The Duke has become known as the uncrowned "King of the Riviera" and every new organization seeks his co-operation and leadership. Several additional lawn tennis clubs have been inaugurated and the Duke has consented to act as president of a number of these. He has also accepted a similar association with the country club at Menton Roquebrune.

CONNAUGHT, 'KING OF RIVIERA'

Reports Say Duke Is Society Leader at Resort.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—News comes from the French Riviera that the Duke of Connaught has succeeded his brother, the late King Edward, as society leader in the British colony along the coast.

There has been a whirl of events unequalled in any previous year. The Duke has become known as the uncrowned "King of the Riviera" and every new organization seeks his co-operation and leadership. Several additional lawn tennis clubs have been inaugurated and the Duke has consented to act as president of a number of these. WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The

another chapter today in the hearings which have stirred up Army and Navy circles by calling a number of Army flyers who served in France with Brigadier-General

Mitchell, Assistant Chief of the Army Air Service, and central figure in the present controversy.

Several of the former Army flyers volunteered their appearance before the committee in a communication to Secretary Wilbur, who is opposed to pending legislation to create a unified Army and Navy air service. Gen. Mitchell is strongly in favor of the proposal.

Brigadier-General Mitchell declined before the committee that he disobeyed orders in the 1921

bombing tests off the Virginia

Capes.

Members of Congress were inited by Gen. Mitchell to attend a motion picture exhibit in the Aircraft Committee room tonight to demonstrate the value of aircraft in war.

Absolutely Not, Says Witness.

W. J. Schaffner, who was a Major in the World War, told the committee that the statement by

Brigadier-General Mitchell of the Army General Staff, that 12 anti-aircraft guns would ward off an airplane attack was "absolute rot."

Experienced aviators, he said,

"snap their fingers" at anti-aircraft guns.

L. Philip Kefauver of Bay City,

Mich., however, testified he had been brought down twice in 20 raids by German anti-aircraft fire.

Harold E. Hartney of Washington, D. C., who commanded the first pursuit group in France, in turn discounted the value of anti-aircraft fire. Hartney also declared the Navy Department recently had turned down specifications for a new airplane which, in his opinion, if used by another nation and not by the United States, would compel this country to sue for peace. He refused to discuss the matter in detail at a public hearing and requested the committee to call him in executive

"Something Absolutely Vital."

The witness said that the inventor of the new plane, "one of the greatest engineers of the world," had "brought out something that is absolutely vital."

John K. Montgomery of Washington, D. C., a former junior Lieutenant in the navy, asserted the Navy Department attempted to make an officer "a jack of all trades" to the detriment of the service. He favored unification of the air arms.

COOLIDGE OPPOSES RETURN OF ENEMY ALIEN PROPERTY

England and France Would Want to Deduct Value of Holdings From Dawes Annuities.

SENATORS INFORMED OF ALLIES' VIEW

Borah's Resolution for Return of Property Based on Traditional Policy and Wilson's Declaration.

By CHARLES MICHELSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—President Coolidge has communicated to influential Senators of his own party that he is opposed to the return of the German property, amounting approximately to $250,000,000, now held by Alien Property Custodian Miller.

The ground for that opposition is that European countries like France and England, which have retained similar estates, have let it be known that if America gives back the German private property they feel that value should be deducted from the total to be taken from the general reparations payments to satisfy American claims. This attitude was demonstrated during the early stages of the Paris conference and the Senate wants to learn whether an understanding that the United States should confiscate the property of former enemy nationals was one of the things that resulted in the agreement that America was to have 2 1/2 per cent of the Dawes annuities.

The position of the President, which is backed by Secretary Mellon and in a measure by Secretary Hughes, will bring about a serious clash between the White House and the Senate when the matter comes up before the next Congress.

Borah at White House. Senator Borah already has presented a resolution for the restoration of the seized property, basing it on the traditional policy of this country and the explicit promise that was made by Woodrow Wilson on the eve of the declaration of war that in no event would there be confiscation of private holdings.

Borah was at the White House yesterday and although he would not say what the purpose of his visit was the inference is that his resolution was under discussion.

The President has let it be known that he hopes that hereafter Senators and Representatives with important measures in contemplation would talk them over with him before presenting them in order to avoid misunderstanding and the appearance of "cross purposes" between the executive and legislative branches.

Irreconcilables. Arrived. The irreconcilables in the Senate are appalled at the proposition that the European allies should insist to the United States the disposition of the enemy property.

Belief is that Great Britain, France and the others, although indifferent to the money involved, are principally actuated by a determination that the United States shall not remain before the world as the one great Power that reserves the principle of the sanctity of private property in war.

By December, when the new Congress convenes, the Mixed Claims Commission will have adjudicated all the claims of American citizens against Germany.

The Chemical Foundation suit, the most recent test of the disposition of seized patents and so forth, will have been decided by the United States Supreme Court, and the new plan will be in operation.

The administration viewpoint is that American assets in Germany are not fettered our rights in respect to sequestered alien property, which were reserved under the treaty of Versailles and the treaty of Berlin. The Paris agreement, according to this view, has nothing to do with the retention of the property.

Introduces Bill for Return of Property. WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A bill to direct the President to return to former owners property seized by the Alien Property Custodian, was introduced today by Representative Hawes (Dem., Miss.).

The bill would require the return of the property to the right owner, but it would not require the return of property if it had been sold or if it had been destroyed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A bill to direct the President to return to former owners property seized by the Alien Property Custodian, was introduced today by Representative Hawes (Dem.) of Missouri.

FRANCE TO ABIDE BY AGREEMENT TO EVACUATE RUHR

Foreign Office, Worried by Washington Rumor to Contrary, Declares It Will Observe Pact.

WILL RETAIN COLOGNE FOR THE PRESENT

French Apparently Underestimate Amount Great Britain Expects to Collect on War Debt.

By ARNO BOSCH FLEUROT, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—The report from Washington that the Government is concerned over what appears to be maneuvers in France to remain in the Ruhr, caused the Foreign Office to declare emphatically that this territory will be evacuated on the day fixed by the London agreement.

Germany has lived up to the obligation of the Dawes plan provided by the London agreement, it is pointed out, and France could not keep her soldiers in the Ruhr beyond August if she wanted to. The Herriot Government, the correspondent is informed, is anxious to fulfill all obligations growing out of the Dawes plan because it considers France's immediate security is dependent upon the plan and upon British and American interest in its fulfillment.

Security in the Dawes plan is believed to lie in two factors. First, as long as Germany must pay the annuities she will be too poor to go in for any extensive armament. Second, as long as Great Britain and America profit from these annuities, Germany will feel obliged to pay them.

This has not previously been discussed in France and is only considered now because the British note seems to many people here to indicate doubt in the British mind whether the Dawes plan could continue to function.

Evacuation of Cologne is a different story. The French consider they are under an obligation to agree to the Cologne evacuation until Germany has disarmed. The Interallied Control Commission's report which is about finished, is known to contain a long list of failures on the part of Germany to disarm.

So the French Government considers it has firm ground to stand on in opposing evacuation of Cologne. France is maneuvering for a security pact from England before evacuation of Cologne.

FRENCH IN ERROR AS TO WHAT BRITAIN EXPECTS TO COLLECT

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON, London Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Although Chancellor Churchill's debt note to France mentioned no figures but only promised the British Treasury has clear in mind the sums France and Italy are expected to pay.

In Paris apparently inspired by the statements made by the British demand for France only amounts to 110,000,000 pounds ($550,000,000).

But Churchill expects to collect from France sums amounting at present day value to 200,000,000 pounds from Italy 100,000,000 pounds from the smaller debtors between 10,000,000 and 50,000,000.

Although the Italian debt to Great Britain is more than three quarters of the French debt, the Italians are to be asked to pay only a third as much since the figure is to be assessed on relative wealth and tax paying capacity.

The Curzon note to France in August, 1923, estimated the present value of the debt to the United States at 710,000,000 pounds. The French commentators point out that the value of the Dawes annuities now accruing to England amount to 400,000,000 pounds and that the balance of 310,000,000 therefore is all the allies must make up to pay Britain what she has to pay the United States.

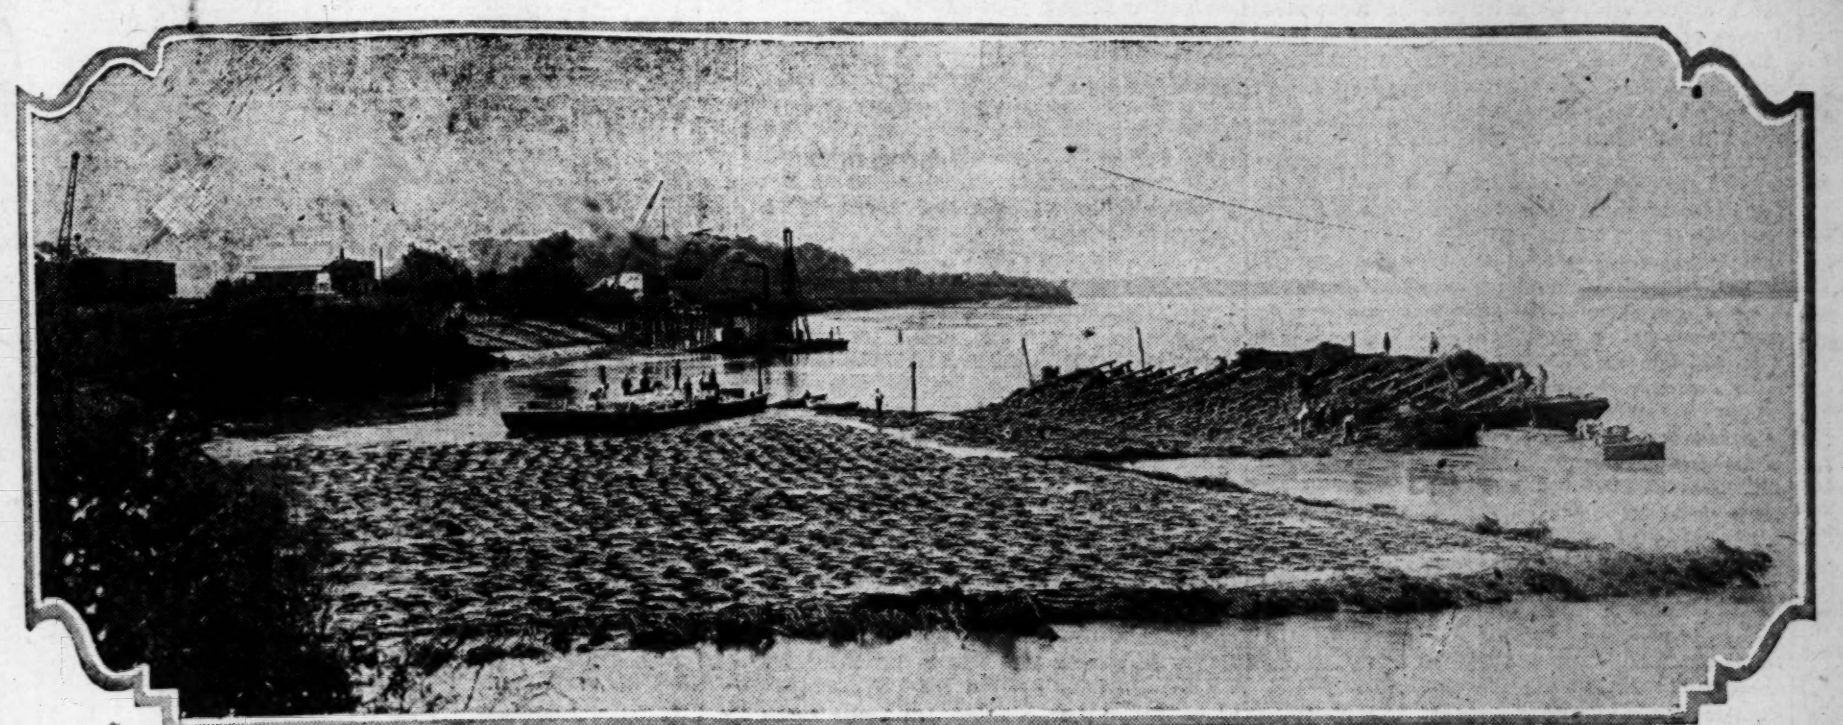

Further with 50,000,000 pounds gold which they claim lies to their credit in the Bank of England, French experts have suggested that since Italy owes Britain almost as much as France, the British should demand from Italy 100,000,000 pounds and from France amounts only to about 160,000,000 pounds less the gold or a total of 110,000,000.

The British reply to this argument, which demonstrates France must pay nearly three times this sum, is the central idea that lies behind the terms of the Churchill note.

The French fallacy, is to con-

MAKING A BETTER ST. LOUIS—EXHIBIT NO. 2

Weaving Willows Into a Mat to Control Missouri River at Waterworks

To control the swift and twisting current of the Missouri River, for protection of the new waterworks, under the $87,372,500 bond issue, and to put the channel alongside the site for the pumping station.

The essential features of the revetment work are these thick mattresses to form a nucleus for shoals, and heavy piling driven through the mattresses. The piles of willows are sunk to the bottom with big rocks when completed, and driftwood, sand and dirt then catch on the mattresses and the piling, forming bars and eventually permanent accretions to the land.

Men who stick to river work, because they like it, prepared the mats on the spots where they were to be sunk. The willows were cut along the river banks. In the background here, facing upstream (southwest), may be seen a floating pilerider, hammering down piles in another place where a mattress has been placed on the bottom.

TURKEY OBJECTS TO LEAGUE INTERVENTION

Holds That Expulsion of Greek Patriarch Is Purely a Domestic Question.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

GENEVA, Feb. 12.—The question of whether the League of Nations is competent to intervene in international affairs if war is threatened was resurrected when Chuky Aya Bey, Turkish Foreign Minister, announced the Turkish Government's fight the Greek appeal for league intervention in the patriarchate controversy.

The Turkish position was made known yesterday.

Turkey claims her expulsion of Patriarch Constantine is purely a domestic question. Ankara will send a representative to the league council if the case is taken up, but will insist that the league is not competent to consider it.

This will force the league to establish a precedent. The Turks declare their national sovereignty is involved, that every country has the right to say who shall reside within its borders.

Turkey regards the matter as closely allied to immigration restrictions. If the case gets before the council or assembly and arbitration is attempted by the league, Japan's contention, raised during the disarmament protocol discussion last summer, will be upheld. Japan's thesis was based on Article XI of the covenant, which authorizes the league to intervene in any case where war with another Power is threatened.

Meanwhile the Greek appeal for such action has been received officially and has been circulated by the secretariat. The problem is regarded as very棘手 and there is a widespread desire to avoid the issue. But should both Greece and Turkey agree to arbitration, it cannot be avoided.

There is a disposition, if the matter is pressed, to ask The Hague court for a ruling on whether expulsion of the Patriarch was a violation of the Lausanne Treaty and also whether it is a domestic issue.

fuse present-day values and gross values, and the face value of the British debt to the United States with the face value of the German Dawes bonds which British experts believe are marketable at between 70 and 80. Churchill has taken 75 as a rough working basis, which reduces the present value of the British Dawes receipts from 400,000,000 to 300,000,000 pounds. The British debt to America, it is pointed out, is absolute. There is no transfer committee, no provision for mitigation, no chance for default.

Accordingly, the British Government calculates that even assuming the Dawes scheme works, Britain's debtors must pay the difference between the sums owing the United States by Great Britain and the 30,000,000 pounds recoverable from Germany. This leaves a total of 410,000,000 for the allied debtors to pay, since the British consider the French 50,000,000 pounds gold as spent during the war to pay for munitions for France in the United States. Great Britain expects France to pay 300,000,000 of this 410,000,000.

Electoral Votes Counted By Congress in Silence

Senate and House, in Solemn Mummery, Declare 'It Appears Therefrom' That Coolidge and Dawes Were Elected.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The House and Senate yesterday afternoon, in joint session, went through the solemn mummery of counting the electoral votes cast by the states in the last election and of declaring that "it appeared therefrom" that Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts had been elected President for a term of four years, beginning March 4, 1925, and Charles G. Dawes of the State of Illinois had been elected Vice President for the same term.

The ceremony took just 40 minutes. Though mildly interesting as the performance of a function laid on Congress, by the Constitution, it came as a lame anticlimax to the hectic speculation of last fall as to what would happen if no candidate for the presidency should receive a majority of electoral votes.

No Provision for Deadlock.

One is still permitted to wonder what would have happened if La Follette's vote had been sufficient to deadlock the Electoral College. The laws today are the same as they were last November, with no provision to cover the emergency that would arise from failure of Congress to break an Electoral College deadlock before the fourth of March.

Today's proceedings, therefore, were more interesting because of what might have been, than because of what actually happened.

The galleries of the hall of the House of Representatives, the place designated by the Constitution, were fairly well filled. In the President's section sat the ever faithful Frank W. Stearns, the Boston merchant, who has stood at the President's elbow, pushing him along at every stage of his upward journey to the White House.

Ballots in Mahogany Box.

Promptly at 1 o'clock, the members of the Senate filed in and took the two front rows. About half the Senate was there. The rest had declined to let the ceremony interfere with their luncheon.

Proceeding the Senators were two Senate pages, each carrying a mahogany box about a foot square, containing the electoral ballot. Charles B. Reamy. They had been chosen from their fellows because of high rank in behavior. The faces of the pages reflected their sense of the high solemnity of the occasion. Most of the Senators were less dignified.

Senator Cummins, President pro tempore of the Senate, advanced to the rostrum and took a seat alongside Representative Gillett, Speaker of the House.

Cummins announced the purpose of the proceedings, and added an admonition, which he said had been given by a former distinguished Vice President, on a similar occasion, against expressions of approval or disapproval on the part of the galleries or members during the counting of the ballot.

"In Dignity and Silence."

"We are engaged on a solemn and important duty," said Cummins, quoting his unnamed predecessor, "and it should be discharged in dignity and silence."

The announcement had a quieting effect on the chamber. Senators who had been smiling attempted to look very grave. The aspect of solemnity was put on by some of the Democrats without much effort. Three who sat together—Heflin of Alabama, Kendrick of Wyoming and Jones of New Mexico—looked extremely dejected. Brookhart of Iowa, who sat next to them, was no more cheerful.

Cummins asked that the tellers come forward. These had already been selected by the respective bodies—Spencer of Missouri, Republican, and King of Utah, Democrat, to act for the Senate, and White of Kansas, Republican, and Jeffers of Alabama, Democrat, to act for the House. Spencer was chosen because he is chairman of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, and King because he is the ranking Democrat member.

Spencer in Frock Coat.

As befitting the supposedly greater dignity of the Senate, Spencer and King sported frock coats. In contrast with the ordinary business attire of the House tellers, Spencer had a little white edging on the V of his correct waistcoat.

The four tellers took seats at the clerk's desk. Each had in front of him a padded form on which the electoral vote had already been tabulated and totaled. Certificates of the electoral votes of the 48 states were handed to the tellers by Senator Cummins in alphabetical order.

"The State of Alabama," he announced, and memories of the "24 votes for Underwood," that boomed for many days in the New York convention, ran through the heads of the audience.

Jeffers took the certificate, pretended to give it a critical inspection and then gravely announced that "the certificate seems to be in regular form and authentic, and it appears therefrom that John W. Davis of West Virginia received 12 votes for Nebraska and Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska 12 votes for Vice President."

Senators Bored, Wander Out.

Spencer arose and announced the vote of Arizona. White performed the same function for Arkansas, and King had his inning with California. White raised a laugh by giving the vice presidential vote of Arkansas to "Charles G. Bryan." The tellers took regular turns in making the announcements. Heads of Cummins' inflection, the audience sat silent, save for an occasional titter of amusement. Several of the Senators became bored and wandered out to a belated luncheon.

When Massachusetts was reached, Senator Cummins named it as a "commonwealth." Thereafter, whenever it fell to King to give the vote of a state that had gone Republican he was meticulously careful to cast the ballot for "Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

Spencer happened to draw his own State. He declaimed with

Tellers Make 'Final Ascertainment.'

After the three votes of the last State, Wyoming, had been duly counted, Cummins asked the tellers to make a "final ascertainment" of the total vote. There was a brief period of mock addition, after which Spencer handed up the report of the tellers and Cummins announced that Coolidge and Dawes had received 332 votes. Davis and Bryan 136 votes and La Follette and Wheeler 13 votes.

Cummins then declared that Coolidge and Dawes had been elected and that Senators might go back to their own chamber. A faint ripple of applause was quickly drowned in the noise of departure. The assembling of the House and Senate to count the electoral vote on the second Wednesday in February, according to the terms of the Constitution, was over.

SAYS RUSSIAN EMBASSY PAID HIM TO STIR UP BERLIN RISING

Defendant in Trial of Communists in Germany Turns State's Evidence.

By the Associated Press.

LEIPZIG, Germany, Feb. 12.—Mysterious women, known to the communists as "Eve" and "Lou," cholera bacilli, rabbits held in the center of the stage at the trial of 16 communists, alleged to be members of the "German Cheka" and charged with murder and terrorist acts.

One defendant, Felix Neumann, who has turned state's evidence, and who is asserted to be insane by the defense, testified that one "Lou," a former employee of the soviet embassy, introduced him to the communists as "Eve" and "Lou," cholera bacilli, rabbits held in the center of the stage at the trial of 16 communists, alleged to be members of the "German Cheka" and charged with murder and terrorist acts.

At this statement three of the defendants and most of the counsel were on their feet, each giving a different version of the story.

Neumann testified that a revolutionary communist committee was formed in Germany in 1923 on military lines; weapons were to be bought with money supplied by the Russian Embassy in Berlin. He alleged that he himself once received 25,000 American dollars from the embassy for that purpose, together with instructions from another defendant, known as Skoblevsky, a Russian General (the soviet's Cheka agent in Germany) "to get rid of Gen. von Seeckt, Hugo Stinnes and other prominent German industrialists."

He asserted that Skoblevsky prepared plans for an armed communist rising and a march on Berlin, and mentioned as implicated in the plot the communist Reichstag Deputies Ruth Fischer, Wilhelm Koenen and Herman Remmele, and a member of the Prussian Diet, Deputy Wilhelm Pieck, who was nominated as the communist candidate for the Prussian premiership.

Belgian on 5000-Mile Flight.

'CITY, BY ECONOMY, CAN BOOST SALARIES'

"Mind Your Business" Says Tax Increase Can Be Avoided.

Some of the pending requests for salary increases, payable from municipal revenue, could be granted without increase in the tax rate, "if sound business management were applied to the operation of many of the city departments," the Bureau of Municipal Research says in its weekly bulletin, "Mind Your Business," issued today.

The increases requested, for salaries and operating expenses, reach a total of more than $4,000,000 for the fiscal year 1925-26, the bureau states. These include $746,000 increase for the police, provided by a bill pending in the Legislature; $276,000 requested by the firemen, and increases amounting to $93,000 asked for the courts, Circuit Attorney's office and Municipal Nurses.

Last year's municipal tax rate of $1.27 on the $100 valuation can be increased by not more than 8 cents, the bureau says, as $1.35 is the legal limit. This increase, it estimates, would give only $1,150,000 more revenue, so that the granting of all the increases requested would mean a deficit of about $2,000,000.

"A portion of the requests seem to be justified by comparison with other cities," the bureau says. "A recent article in the daily press stated 'Mayor Kiel told the firemen he approved their plan of an initiative and if the people granted their increase would be up to the city to find the funds.'"

"This bureau has called the Mayor's attention to specific instances where changes in methods of operation could effect an annual saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars."

"With the constant increase in the demands on municipal revenue, it is an urgent necessity that the most efficient and economical methods be employed in the conduct of the city's business."

RECOUNT SHOWS PERLMAN ELECTED OVER SIROVICH

Contest for Seat in Congress Cause in Which Man Testified to Fixing Ballots With Magic Ring.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Nathan D. Perlman, Republican, is given a possible majority of 117 and an undisputed majority of 25 votes over the Democratic candidate for Congress, Dr. William I. Sirovich, in a recount of the ballots cast in the last election in the Fourteenth Congressional District, Manhattan.

George Hosken, out on bail on indictment for perjury in connection with charges he made concerning the vote, appeared before the examiners and repeated his sensational statement recently made to the grand jury that he "fixed" ballots in the first count in favor of Perlman by the aid of a "magic ring" containing pencil lead.

Under cross-examination yesterday Hosken testified he had brought the charge because Perlman would not get him a position in the narcotic squad of the Department of Justice. He admitted he had been convicted of burglary in 1916, receiving a suspended sentence, and that after that he did not return to his home in Brooklyn, but lived "in hotels all around New York."

RACE A PUZZLE, BUT MAYOR HAS THE 'CROSS WORDS'

Says Some Persons Have Told Him Four-Letter Word Beginning With "K" Would Solve It.

"HIS" AND "RECORD" ALSO MIGHT FIT IN

Tells C. of C. He Can't Make Political Speech, but Outlines Work Accomplished in 12 Years.

"The majority race is something of a cross-word puzzle," Mayor Kiel said yesterday in an address before the Chamber of Commerce. "Some persons have told me that the solution is a four-letter word that begins with K and ends with L. I'll admit I do like the job."

The principal phase of his address apparently offered his idea of facts which might aid voters to a solution of the problem. He discussed the "accomplishments of St. Louis in the last 12 years." If hardly needs an editor's note to remind one that, by coincidence, this happens to be the length of time Mayor Kiel has been in office.

The address was part of the program of the Chamber of Commerce to add 1000 members to its present list. The occasion demanded some reference to the city's growth, and the Mayor did not miss his opportunity, although at the outset he said it was regrettable that he "couldn't make a political speech."

He was well received and his plain statement of the things his administration had accomplished, excepted, with apparent approval, though in silence. At its close President W. Palmer Clarkson said that he did not wish to enter the realm of politics, but could not refrain from commending a faithful public servant.

$44,000,000 for Improvements.

"In the last 12 years the city of St. Louis out of general revenue has expended $44,000,000 for permanent public improvements," the Mayor said. "Think of that. Out of the funds supplied by taxes, improvements totaling more than half the amount of the bond issue have been made."

"In 12 years, 193 miles of streets have been paved, 93 miles of alleys have been completed and 143 miles of sewers laid. Do you remember the old grade crossings? They have for the most part been taken care of. Twelve years ago you went over a rickety old viaduct on Twelfth boulevard. You know what it is today. They said a viaduct at Tower Grove Station was impossible in view of the network of streets, car tracks and train tracks. It is there today. So is the Chouteau avenue viaduct, and the one on Union boulevard and the one on Compton avenue. Fourteenth street will soon see a completed viaduct."

Koch Hospital.

The Mayor then dealt with Koch Hospital, Bellefontaine Farm and the farm for the feeble minded. "All of that came out of general revenue," he said.

Adroitly he referred to the effect this series of improvements had on the city. "Then it became contagious," he declared. "Industries wanted to locate here. They came here because of the good roads, streets, car tracks and train tracks. It is there today. So is the Chouteau avenue viaduct, and the one on Union boulevard and the one on Compton avenue. Fourteenth street will soon see a completed viaduct."

He said he would like to see the free bridge through open to railroad traffic. "The idea is agreed upon; the manner only is in question," he added. "I hope some of the men who come after me (note of sacrifice in his voice) will see it done. But they must have the co-operation of business men and citizens. No Mayor can accomplish much if he has not the support of citizens."

He did not commit himself finally on his entering the primary. His birthday, Feb. 21, is approaching, and he has told his friends that he is going to let his action hinge upon what is best for the city and the Republican party. He said that the Republican party will have the best chance of success with Henry W. Kiel at the head of the ticket.

Meanwhile he casually calls attention to the stupor of St. Louis made in 12 years—his 12 years.

Dieckman in His Platform Emphasizes Need of Economy.

George E. Dieckman, stock broker and president of the Zoological Society, who recently filed for the Republican nomination for Mayor, announced his platform yesterday and emphasized the need for strict economy in municipal administration.

He reiterated his promise to turn back to the treasury the annual $12,500 contingent fund allotted to the Mayor if he is elected. He also Proper Headlights for Automobiles.

I wish to inform "Mr. Careful Driver" that it is against the laws of the city or State of Missouri to drive with dimmers. In the first place, dimmers are not sufficient lights to drive an automobile with. In driving an automobile, the law states you must have two bright lights to see an object 150 feet ahead.

Now the police will not arrest anyone with bright lights if said lights are on the ground 50 feet in front of your car. They only arrest those that have glaring headlights, as glaring headlights are out of focus and blind anyone in front of them.

And, if you or anyone thinks their lights are not right, bring your automobile to the city hall to the light testing station, room 20, and I will focus your lights so that you will not be arrested, and make you a more careful driver, by not driving with dimmers.

This station is at the city hall for the benefit of auto drivers and the safety of the public, most of whom do not take advantage of this until they are arrested.

Official Headlight Tester, City Hall.

Trees Cause Electric Trouble.

IN ANSWER to "Suburbanite," regarding Union Electric Co. service in the country: If the public and the city officials would realize that trees are the cause of 90 per cent of the electric company's line trouble, they would allow the electric company to keep the trees trimmed below the line. I have worked for the Union Electric Co. as a trouble man in the country for the past 15 years, and in at least 90 per cent of line trouble trees were the original cause. No one on earth has the power to stop the wind from blowing limbs of trees on the lines, or the lightning from striking the wires, poles and other equipment necessary to deliver service to the consumer. A large part of the public are very reasonable, whereas others do not realize the torture and suffering of the linemen who work in all kinds of weather to restore the service.

TROUBLE MAN.

Protection of Pedestrians.

WILL someone explain why the apaco where people have to get on street cars is not kept free of motor vehicles? Why don't the police arrest every driver blocking this space? Doesn't the whole idea of breaking laws for the protection of pedestrians, and the killing of thousands and injuring of hundreds of thousands of people every year, grow the necessity of liability and accident insurance to protect the pedestrians and their heirs?

If a driver of a motor vehicle is so inhuman as to injure and kill more people because he has insurance his license should be revoked for a year after his second conviction and forever after the third. That is the only way to teach these people a lesson, and protect everybody.

If the selfish creatures who oppose accident insurance for the benefit of automobile victims and their loved ones had their way the victims would get nothing, while every criminal and idiot Tom, Dick and Harry would have a fine time killing people and bragging afterwards how they "burned up the road."

Force them to pass a thorough examination and take out insurance before issuing a license and make everybody carry a copy of all automobile laws at all times in their machines. We cannot be too careful of human life.

Congested District Parking Problem.

IN ORDER to solve the parking problem downtown, place "parking stands" along Twelfth and Fourth streets—say Market, Chestnut, Pine, Olive, Locust and Washington avenue—with a policeman in them. Pass an ordinance making it necessary for anybody who wishes to park in the congested district for any length of time, not exceeding one hour, to stop at one of these stands and get a parking ticket, which would be issued in triplicate with the time limit stamped on all three with a time clock, one to be retained by the police officer as a matter of record, the second to be pasted or attached to the machine whose driver wishes to park, the third to be carried by the driver, so he could refer to it and know just exactly what time he has to move his car. This system would enable any officer, on the beat or otherwise, to ascertain by looking at the "sticker" on the windshield, whether or not the driver of the car was violating the parking rules. Would enable storekeepers to report to the police anybody who "hogged" the parking space in front of their stores. Drivers of cars, knowing any citizen might report them, would be careful about parking overtime. As it is now, machines stay in one spot all day, sometimes through friendship of the corner policeman, other times because they know there is not a policeman looking after this matter.

THOMAS M. BRADY.

OUR AIR SERVICE.

Gen. William Mitchell, Assistant Chief of the Army Air Service, is admittedly a "first-class fighting man." There is no trace of the diplomat in him, however, no taint of the courtier. His strategy is elemental. He fights for what he wants—fights with bare fists.

He wants a unified air service. He has wanted it for a long time. He has urged it, eloquently and passionately, on many occasions. He has crusaded for the cause. His crusade has finally involved him in a bitter controversy with the higher-ups of the departments and his superior officers of the General Staff.

In arguing that the air force should not be an adjunct of the army or navy, but an independent branch of arms, Gen. Mitchell's reasoning is plausible to the civilian. He says: The wars of the future will be fought in the air. The battleship is obsolete, or, at best, obsolescent. The navy for a certainty are going under water. This confident assertion is presumably based on the experiment of July 13, 1921, when bombing planes, under Mitchell's command, sank the German destroyer, G-102. The land battles will be long-distance battles. It is in the air where the wars of the future will be won or lost.

Those are, perhaps, the utterances of a prophet. Still, the evolution of warfare, the vital part aviation played in the World War, inclines the civilian mind favorably to any forecast as to the probable military pre-eminence of the air service. Further, had the World War gone over another winter into another campaign and the invasion of Germany, which was being planned, had been carried out, the air plane would very likely have given a terrifying and conclusive demonstration of its incomparable capacity as an engine of destruction.

But the airplane of the World War is obsolete, Gen. Mitchell asserts. "None of the airplanes used in the World War would be used in a war now," he informs us. Again: "Two squadrons of the airplane as we have it today could have defeated the German aviation in the war in two weeks."

Manifestly, if those statements as to the progress in the science of aviation are approximately correct, Mitchell's prophecy cannot be disregarded as such. Rather, it may and should be considered as the authoritative, expert judgment of a real airman.

The advisability of Mitchell's proposal, however, for putting the air force on a parity with the army and navy is a question of military technique which ought to be passed upon by men of military training. But in bringing it stormily to the fore as he has, at the risk of his own career, Gen. Mitchell has rendered a public service. Like other institutions, the army and navy have developed traditional rigor and aversion to innovation. The Mitchell proposal is a radical change. It will be effected, if at all, only after prolonged, stubborn resistance. Its opponents, it should be said, have offered formidable objections to it, as readers of the series of articles in the Post-Dispatch by Peter Vischer are aware.

This controversy, however, does not rage exclusively in the technical field of military policy or the speculative area as to future warfare. Here and there it touches the tangible levels of facts. For example, Gen. Mitchell says that today the United States has only 19 airplanes that are fit to fight. Yet we have spent $483,000,000 on aviation since the war. Between this expenditure and the practical result is a gap that requires explanation. Gen. Mitchell suggests a congressional investigation. The Post-Dispatch would approve an investigation conducted in the constructive spirit of determining what is wrong with our aviation policy and organization and reorganizing the service on the most efficient basis, from both a military and a commercial standpoint.

WHEREIN NATURE IS FOILED.

We are afraid Dr. Gideon Wells' Nature is a very hard-boiled old dame. He interprets her as being through with us at 50. Before 50 she is eagerly concerned with protecting us against disease and death that we may reproduce our kind; after 50, she resigns her job in favor of hot-water bags, mustard plasters and high-blood-pressure experts. This cruel indifference, however, is considerably softened by the fact that human beings after 50 get along surprisingly well without the old dame's help. Besides being the actual rulers of the world, many a post-fiftite still packs a youthful wallop. Witness the gorgeous Lily Langtry dragging gaily on the Riviera, and John J. Pershing mulebacking it over the Andes.

Is the River des Peres, like Tennyson's Brook, to go on and on forever?

THE NEW WASHINGTON.

Washington has interpreted the election. Charles G. Ross of the Post-Dispatch summarizes in a brief article the contrast in the political pictures of Washington now and a year ago. Last February the senatorial investigations were in full swing and everybody was afraid to be called even conservative, to say nothing of reactionary. The investigators were in the saddle and winning the plaudits of the nation. To be called conservative is a compliment and to be accused of being reactionary is to bring an amused guffaw.

That is Washington's interpretation of the election. This interpretation takes no account of any of the special circumstances of the campaign, no account of the split opposition, no account of the possibility that many of the people who voted Republican might have been at heart progressive. It assumes that the great majority are for the old guard and its methods and that they are well enough satisfied with a Government run by big business.

Washington may be right in this view. The country may be reactionary. It may wish all the departments of the Government, even if some need alrign, to run on uninvestigated. It may want the Trade Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Tariff Commission to be packed with reactionaries. But may not Washington be going too far in so cynical a presumption? May there not, after all, be a time of reckoning? Or, with a clean stretch of four years ahead, is the attitude being taken of "after us the deluge?"

As for the welfare of the country, the Washington interpretation of Nov. 6 may not be unfortunate. It is said that "Coolidge is no longer cautious." With all pretense of liberalism thrown off there will be no chance of misunderstanding at the next election.

MR. COOLIDGE'S PLANS FOR MARCH 4.

Mr. Coolidge having decided to do away with nineteenth of the ceremony on March 4, will no doubt be charged with robbing our own inauguration day of some of its impressiveness. But we do not believe that he has abandoned anything very much worth saving. He keeps the ride to the Capitol where he will take the oath of office and deliver his inaugural address; he will then pass through Pennsylvania avenue with a small company of military detachments now on duty in Washington, a dozen or so Governors attended by their staffs. And that should be enough to give the inauguration the back ground of official ceremony it deserves. What Mr. Coolidge deletes by his decision is the all-day, the miles of reviewing stands filled with tourists who have had enough when the first 2000 soldiers have marched past. The pinwheels and the Roman candles at the White House in the evening, the army of hawkers selling popcorn balls and blown-glass replicas of the Capitol in all its tinted glory.

Mr. Coolidge's decision against spending much of the public's money on all of this is taken on grounds of economy. He might have reached the same decision as an artist.

HEROD LAWS.

There is a dispute in a committee of the Legislature as to what is the purpose of a bill which would permit only registered pharmacists to own and operate drug stores. The bill was introduced at the instance of the St. Louis Retail Druggists' Association, and its spokesmen say its purpose is to prevent bootleggers from getting into the drug store business. But an attorney opposing the measure says its purpose is to put the so-called "cut-rate" drug stores out of business. The bill has been amended so as not to apply to drug stores at present not owned by registered pharmacists.

No law is fit to be passed the purpose of which is not clear, obvious and beyond cavil. A law that merely thrusts in the dark to hit something, but which may strike the just and the unjust alike is to be classified as a Herod law and dismissed as worse than useless. Bootlegging through drug stores and otherwise is already outlawed, and the law which it violates can be enforced only by detecting and punishing specific cases of violation. A law limiting the ownership of drug stores would not deprive the bootleggers in drug stores and it would arbitrarily exclude from business persons of legitimate intention who may never have had a thought of bootlegging.

The public is already protected from the filling of prescriptions by unqualified persons. That is as far as the law ought to go.

Leave it to Cautious Cal to ride an electrical horse.

A SOCIETY NOTE.

What a change from the day when our diplomats were homespun, spoke in Yankee idiom and chewed tobacco! We learn that their august majesties, the King and Queen of England, were entertained at a brilliant dinner at Crewe House, the home of Ambassador and Mrs. Kellogg. Flame-colored azaleas with tall silver candelabra, pink azaleas in gilt baskets, lilies and white tulips made a bower for royalty, and we are assured by the A. P. correspondent that the orchestra played softly during the dinner.

There were other bewildering particulars, such as a description of Mrs. Kellogg's gown and who gave whose arm to whom. Although the dispatch discreetly omits to say so, no doubt sherry came with the soup, a sauterie with the fish, Bordeaux with the filet, champagne with pate de fois gras, and liqueurs later. The conversation, of course, was perfectly deadly.

The Hands-Across-the-Sea Club will now pass appropriate resolutions of approval. The boys around the stores of Rochester and Olmstead County, Minnesota, will make wise cracks, while the Sewing Circle will "I declare." Washington will blow the dust off Emily Post in preparation for the Kelloggs' return. And some of Mr. Kellogg's ex-colleagues of the Senate will view with alarm, while others will point with pride. Altogether the occasion is one to be marked.

Miss Zoe Akins, oozing fame at every pore, returns after a long absence and gives the old home town an awful roast, and never a word of protest or reproof is uttered. As the poet might have written, St. Louis doesn't give a damn for Zippy Zoe Akins' slam.

We think it would have been more fun if Dr. Eliot had made a list of the 10 worst educators.

KIEL: TO FILE OR NOT TO FILE.

SOCRATES AND HIS PUPILS.

Socrates: You have no doubt noticed how bashful Kielus is about stating his intention?

Glaucou: Yes. He no doubt fears that his time in the city will be wasted.

Socrates: That is about it, I imagine. He might win the nomination, but could he carry his long reign on his back and win the election?

Polemarchus: Maybe he has in mind what the Republicans carried in the presidential election and still got away with it.

Socrates: Perhaps. There is no doubt that politics were more or less revolutionized by that phenomenon. Probably the people, as so many persons are saying, have lost faith in the social efficacy of politics and regard them solely as sport.

Glaucou: They would, of course, say that. Everybody's sympathy is with the short-legged horse or the under dog.

Socrates: Exactly. That is one of the finest things about us. It is what elected Ma Ferguson. The people of Texas said, "Here is Ma, whose husband was impeached for political reasons not quite understood by people at large, thereby depriving Ma of her fling at the Capitol and all the brides and teas over which she might have presided as the first lady of the State." So they voted for Ma, and I dare say most of us hoped she would get back.

Polemarchus: I know I did.

Socrates: But you were not sure that you knew why.

Polemarchus: Jove, no!

Socrates: This is the reason. I don't think we know as much about the science of government since Coolidge took the lead he had to carry and distanced the field, but we know more about human nature.

Thrasymachus: You think, then, that Kielus may run?

Socrates: Well, every man is out to beat the record of Hercules; and if Kielus did win with 12 years as Mayor on his back he would have it on Coolidge or any of the moderns. Naturally, he would rather laugh himself to death than die of old age.

Thrasymachus: You have it, I fancy.

Socrates: Very well. Now let us look out and see how the groundhog is doing.

A Chicago professor says most of us are not using more than 10 per cent of our brain power, which, probably accounts for 100 per cent Americanism.

There are probably 50 train-chasing suburbanites in Illinois who could run Paavo Nurmi off his feet.

It is pretty hard to personalize human progress and leave the Greeks out. Dr. Eliot includes two Greeks, the philosopher Aristotle and the medical scientist Claudius Galenus, in a list of the 10 greatest teachers in 2300 years, and in a survey of human genius Francis Galton placed the philosopher Socrates and the artist Phidias opposite view of life than we have. We make material possession the purpose of life, and whoever dies richest is acclaimed the greatest success. The Greeks made self-improvement the purpose of life, and whoever was most cultivated was the greatest success. Those opposing views are brought into acute contrast by our own, the most material of all ages. The Greek view intrigues us because we somehow cannot see in our Mr. Rockefeller and our Mr. Ford the counterparts of Socrates and Phidias. Were the Greeks right, and did they evaluate life better than we do? No, we will say; but what shall be said of it in the centuries to come, when the two things lie on the scales of time?

Sir: What do you say to a moratorium on news dispatches from the Kentucky cave front? At least until they get the hold dog. The handling of this matter has been strongly reminiscent of that slobbering business at Harding's death. Are "we the people" really such pseudo-sentimentalists as our newspapers assume?

Scores of men working under the compulsion of their daily bread can be killed in a mine without getting on the front page twice running. Why not have a censorship of the news—not as to quality, but quantity?

RELATIVITY.

Sir: You go, and I go, let's all go, for "Igoe."

If all go as I go, we'll all go for Igoe. First person, I go.

Second person, you go.

Third person, we all go—for "Igoe." Somehow this way, take your choice of the slogan.

COURT REFORM.

FROM THE KANSAS CITY STAR.

AMONG the bills introduced at Jefferson City for the purpose of expediting procedure is one to abolish the term of court. The matter is more important than is generally realized. Of all the features of Missouri law that designate terms of court is perhaps the most distinctive example. This division into periods is a relic of old English canon law, which the four religious feast periods observed, no litigation being permitted during these periods. Most states have either abolished these periods altogether or have made business of one connect with the business of a succeeding term. In Missouri a trial finished at the end of a term must begin over again in another term. A Judge of Circuit Court, sitting in an unfinished trial, would dismiss the jury and nothing would be done at the end of a term of court. If he did not do so and resumed trial the next day, that is the first day of the succeeding term, the case would be remanded to the Supreme Court for a new trial. This has been done by the Supreme Court of Missouri. Of course, this does not mean, often, for the reason that lawyers would take chances by beginning suits so late in the term that they may not be completed when the term shall have ended. Not the Supreme Court would have to remand such a case for a new trial, but many appellate judges are strict constructionists. Those of the Missouri bench are not enough to invoke in such a case as legal axiom, now of wide application, when the reason for a law never was in this country. There should be no divisions in the courts of record, especially in the large cities, where the business voluminous and the dockets are crowded. Pleadings should be permissible at any time.

ZOE AKINS SUGGESTS THEATER PLAN HERE

Says St. Louis and Other Cities Should Run Stock Companies or Form Own Circuit.

"I don't want to talk to a reporter. Any reporter. I took a solemn oath this morning that if I ever granted an interview again I hoped I would be sent to some place like—well, like an institution for the insane."

That was the message Miss Zoe Akins, playwright and poet, who once lived in St. Louis, and whose mother still does, called through the door of her suite at Hotel Chase Tuesday. The reporter remonstrated; Miss Akins refused to relent; it began to look as if the reporter, like the title of one of Miss Akins' plays, was declining. An effort was made to interview the dramatist through her all-too-protecting door. She was told it was understood she was on a lecture tour, lecturing about the theater. She admitted that. She was asked what she said on her lectures. She said she didn't say anything. The interviewer inferred that must be an awfully interesting topic to her audiences.

But Miss Akins replied that it was too early in the morning to talk, and if her disturber cared to hear what she thought about the theater he could take a trip to Memphis, where she was next scheduled to lecture. Then finally, after a great deal of pleading, had filtered through the door from the outside, Miss Akins softened and told the reporter if he would come back in a few hours and quit knocking on the door, she would tell him what she thought about the theater and a few other things.

Back Ahead of Time.

The reporter was back 10 minutes ahead of time.

Much to his surprise he was admitted, and the woman who New York's leading critic once said had more ability than any other woman writing for the American stage, appeared.

"Before you speak of the stage," Miss Akins was asked, "what do you think of St. Louis?"

"St. Louis, said the playwright, "Well, St. Louis is peculiar. I'm referring to its climate. And how the climate affects its people. Did you ever think of how many poets and writers and artists come from St. Louis? I believe the climate is in a great way responsible for it. You know, in a vague way, St. Louis is like London; a foggy, damp sort of place."

"Of course you know the poetry and the drama that's been written by Englishmen. Well, I believe such unpleasant, dreary weather plays its part in the production of beautiful things." Danes, a habit of the surrounding fog, which is on one's self. It makes person think. I think St. Louis is far less than most large cities. Persons can't so easily become important, without any reason for being important, in St. Louis as they can in most places.

Night for a Poem.

"Why, even last Saturday night, lovely as it was, had its poignant side. What is one going to do on a night like that? Dance? No, the thing to do on that kind of an evening is to write a poem. And sometimes the melancholia of a place results in quite the contrast of that which is morose. You try to get away from yourself, and the result is you write a comedy."

"And in St. Louis the climate is aided by a lack of anything to do. You can't talk about the opera, theatre or any. You can very seldom talk about the theater, because there isn't much of that either."

"And as for the theater, the American theater, I think it's getting better and is going to get better. Due to the influence of the many foreign plays that have been produced in New York in the last few years. They have taught our playwrights that, no matter how good a detective story they can write, nor how fine a bedroom farce or sentimental play they can make, and make thousands of dollars with it, there is something else they haven't done."

"Of course, New York is the only theater town in the country. Due greatly to the many persons from Southern Europe there. The Anglo-Saxons are often too reserved to be good theater-goers. For St. Louis and the other cities, they ought either to have stock companies, supported by the municipality, or they should form a circuit of their own, each city having its own company, and each visiting in turn by a nucleus of three or four leading actors for every play."

"During 60 years of Married Life"...

Three Generations Kept Healthy and Happy

Beecham's Pills were always considered indispensable by my parents during sixty years of married life and I am never without them in my home, as they are used when required by myself (aged sixty-one), and wife and children. This covers a period of over eighty years.

My wife and sons also believe these are the best remedy for constipation and biliousness equal to Beecham's Pills.

Somany-so-called "cures" for biliousness and kindred troubles have either effects that are certainly injurious, but Beecham's Pills give prompt relief and leave one in a healthy and happy condition."

THEATER OWNER HELD FOR KILLING PATRON

Coroner's Jury Returns Homicide Verdict in Death of Elroy Finke.

A Coroner's verdict of homicide was returned today against Steve Chulick, owner and manager of the Lowell Theater, Broadway and De Soto street, who shot and killed Elroy Finke, 21, during a movie, show there Tuesday night. Chulick is at liberty on $10,000 bond.

Chulick testified he fired in self-defense after Finke, who was a patron, began to beat Chulick and his brother, Peter, an usher. The brother exhibited a blood-stained shirt and handkerchief and said he had been knocked down before Steve Chulick came to his rescue.

Two youths who had been seated near Finke declared Finke merely "defended" himself when "grabbed" by the Chulick brothers, who wanted him to leave. These youths denied knowledge of any stench bomb being exploded in their vicinity.

Ben Schwartz, former owner of the theater, said Finke had more than once created a disturbance, and had been barred from entering the theater, unless accompanied by his wife. Police said Finke had been ejected last Thursday night after a disturbance. They also testified to finding the odor and residue of a stench bomb near his seat last Tuesday night.

Also found near Finke's seat were two discharged .32 caliber cartridges, the source of which was unexplained. Chulick used a .25 caliber automatic pistol and witnesses had not told of seeing any other weapon.

Edwin Finke, brother of the slain man, was in the theater, but testified he did not witness the shooting. He and Miss Fern Rolens, 18, were slightly wounded by a stray bullet. She did not testify.

SAYS LOVE OF MONEY HAS TIGHTER GRIP THAN LIQUOR

"The love of money has a tighter grip on the soul than the love of strong drink," the Rev. Dr. R. A. Torrey declared in his evangelistic address at Washington and Compton Presbyterian Church last night. "It is easier, far to save a whisky fiend from the love of drink than it is to save a money fiend from the grip of the lust for the almighty dollar. I would rather undertake to save twelve whisky drunkards than to save one money drunkard."

He pictured "old grandmothers" who decorate themselves in low-necked dresses, with rouge on their faces, diamonds in ears and pearl necklaces around their shriveled old necks, attending the theaters and trying to attract the attention of young men, when, he said, they should be at home putting their grandchildren to bed.

repeated a previous statement about appointing Democrats as well as Republicans to responsible positions.

The platform declares against nepotism; favors abolition of grade crossings; additional parks and playgrounds; better treatment of the colored race; expansion of the city limits; opposes letting contracts specifying certain materials from other cities when they can be obtained in St. Louis and declares "the proposition of trading our Free Bridge for the Eads Bridge is a matter for the people to decide."

Dickman is one of four Republican candidates who have filed for Mayor. The others are Louis P. Alog, former president of the Board of Aldermen; Victor J. Nager, former president of the Police Board, and Circuit Judge Robert W. Hall.

Former Congressman William L. Igoe, who filed yesterday, is the only Democrat who has filed. James W. Byrnes, nominee four years ago, is undecided. The coming campaign will be considered at a meeting of the Democratic City Committee at 4 p. m. Monday.

O. P. LEADERS TRYING TO DELAY VOTE ON WARREN

...to Postpone Question of Confirmation as Attorney-General Until New Senate Meets.

FEAT EVEN THEN IS A POSSIBILITY

President Asked to Withdraw Name, but He Is Said to Be Standing by Warren.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, of Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Warren at the growing opposition to the confirmation of Charles Warren of Michigan as Attorney-General of the United States, administration leaders of the Senate re-doubled their effort to off a vote on Warren till the final session of the Senate on March 4.

The chances of Warren in the next Senate will be better than in the present, but the changes in personnel will not be sufficient to assure confirmation. If the Democrats stick together against Warren and the insurgents continue their opposition unabated, the Warren nomination will be in grave danger of rejection, no matter when it may be brought to a vote.

Some of those who are listed in the opposition to Warren and who will continue as members of the next Senate are Johnson of California, Borah of Idaho, Brookhart of Iowa, Couzens of Michigan, Norris and Howell of Nebraska,razier of North Dakota, and La Follette of Wisconsin.

Counting Shipstead of Minnesota, who will be the sole surviving Farmer-Labor member, the non-Democratic opposition to Warren in the next Senate appears to comprise nine votes. These, with the 40 Democratic votes, would be sufficient to block the nomination.

Coolidge Stands Firm.

Because of this bleak outlook, the suggestion has been made to the President that he relieve his Senatorial friends of embarrassment by withdrawing Warren's name. The President is said to be "standing pat" against withdrawal.

The Judiciary Committee of the Senate, which has the nomination before it, appears to be hopelessly split, the latest count showing eight for confirmation and eight against. Opponents of confirmation, among whom Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Montana is a leader, are insisting that the question be brought to a head in the Senate without delay. If the Judiciary Committee is unable to reach a decision, they maintain, it should reject the nomination back to the Senate without recommendation, just as the subcommittee which first handled the nomination reported it to the full Judiciary Committee without recommendation.

The Senate session of March 4 will be the routine meeting which is held every four years to confirm presidential nominations. In 1921, the session got under way immediately after the inauguration of President Harding and confirmed his selections for the Cabinet without delay.

G. O. P. LEADERS TRYING TO DELAY VOTE ON WARREN

Hope to Postpone Question of Confirmation as Attorney-General Until New Senate Meets.

DEFEAT EVEN THEN IS A POSSIBILITY

President Asked to Withdraw Name, but He Is Said to Be Standing by Warren.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—

Alarmed at the growing opposition to the confirmation of Charles B.
Warren of Michigan as Attorney-General of the United States, administration leaders of the Senate have re-doubled their effort to lead off a vote on Warren till the special session of the Senate on March 4.

The chances of Warren in the next Senate will be better than in the present, but the changes in personnel will not be sufficient to assure confirmation. If the Democrats stick together against Warren and the insurgents continue their opposition unabated, the Warren nomination will be in grave danger of rejection, no matter when it may be brought to a vote.

Some of those who are listed in the opposition to Warren and who will continue as members of the next Senate are Johnson of California, Borah of Idaho, Brookhart of Iowa, Coudens of Michigan, Norris and Howell of Nebraska, Franzier of North Dakota, and La Follette of Wisconsin.

Counting Shipstead of Minn-ota, who will be the sole surviving Farmer-Labor member, the non-Democratic opposition to Warren in the next Senate appears to comprise nine votes. Those with the 46 Democratic votes would be sufficient to block the nomination.

Coolidge Stands Firm.

Because of this bleak outlook, the suggestion has been made to the President that he relieve his Senatorial friends of embarrassment by withdrawing Warren's name. The President is said to be "standing pat" against withdrawal.

The Judiciary Committee of the Senate, which has the nomination before it, appears to be hopelessly split, the latest count showing eight for confirmation and eight against. Opponents of confirmation, among whom Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Montana is a leader, are insisting that the question be brought to a head in the Senate without delay. If the Judiciary Committee is unable to reach a decision, they maintain, it should report the nomination back to the Senate without recommendation, just as the subcommittee, which first handled the nomination, reported it to the full Judiciary Committee without recommendation.

The Senate session of March 4 will be the routine session which is held every four years to confirm presidential nominations. In 1921, the session got under way immediately after the inauguration of President Harding and confirmed his selections for the Cabinet without delay.

Only the weightiest of reasons are considered sufficient for a protest against anyone chosen by the President to be a member of his official family. These are believed by the insurgents to be supplied in Warren's case by his sugar record, especially in view of the fact that the new Attorney-General will be called upon to pass upon important legal questions pertaining to the sugar industry.

New Attack on Warren.

Coincidentally, with the maneuverings of regular Republican leaders to postpone the vote on Warren, the People's Legislative Service, of which Basil M. Manly, former joint chairman of the National War Labor Board, is the director, followed up its attack of Tuesday with another vigorous condemnation of the Warren appointment.

A statement by the Legislative Service declared that if the charges of conspiracy in restraint of trade set forth in the Federal Trade Commission's complaint of last Monday, Feb. 9, should be sustained, Warren would be "clearly in contempt of court and subject to fine or imprisonment."

"The Michigan Sugar Co., of which Charles B. Warren was president until Jan. 24, 1925, after he had been nominated Attorney-General, was found guilty of participation in an unlawful conspiracy to restrain trade, and commerce, and was perpetually enjoined from further conspiracy by the United States Circuit Court in its decision of May 9, 1922," said the statement.

"The Michigan Sugar Co. and the other beet sugar companies which Mr. Warren headed as a representative of the Havermeier interests and the American Sugar Refining Co., were not absolved by the court, as has been stated by some of Mr. Warren's supporters. The Circuit Court found that those sugar companies were guilty as charged by the Government, but did not commit the crimes charge d while the case was pending in court."

Permanent Injunction Issued.

"The court, however, was not satisfied with the alleged reformation of the guilty companies, and concluded its decision with a permanent injunction against restraint of trade by the American Sugar Refining Co., The National Sugar Refining Co., of New Jersey, The Great Western Sugar Co., and the Michigan Sugar Co."

"It would now appear from the complaint issued on Monday by the Federal Trade Commission that the Michigan Sugar Co. has violated this injunction by engaging in a conspiracy to restrain trade in sugar-beet pulp. If those charges are sustained, Charles B. Warren, and the Michigan Sugar Co., of which he was president during the period of this alleged conspiracy, will clearly be in contempt of the Federal Circuit Court which issued the injunction of May 9, 1922, and subject to fine or imprisonment, as the court said in its contempt."

"Corruption Fat-Free."

In another blast today the People's Legislative Service said that Warren "earned political recognition as chief campaign solicitor and corruption fat-free in the campaign of 1920 which elected Mr.
Coolidge Vice President of the United States." It was recalled that Warren as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Republican National Committee sent to the directors of corporations and other prospective contributors a circular letter, which, as quoted in the statement by the legislative service, read in part as follows:

"Will you therefore determine promptly what the value of Republican success means to you and your corporate interests?"

"Make your financial pledge accordingly and mail the enclosed card to the Detroit office today."

Two robbers ventured up to the twenty-first floor of the Railway Exchange building at 7 o'clock last night, covered their faces with handkerchiefs, held up five men and a woman in the office of the American National Insurance Co., and obtained between $500 and $600 from the open safe.

Office occupants were made to lie on the floor and tied with rope and towels, from which they struggled loose afterwards. They were Jeremiah Leachy of 2116A St. Vincent avenue, superintendent of the agency; Leachy's wife, two assistant superintendents and two solicitors. Leachy was ordered to open the safe but said he didn't know the combination; however, the robbers found it was not locked. They left with a warning against an outcry.

Hotel Drug Store Held Up Shortly After Midnight.

Shortly after midnight, as Edwin A. Rundle, night manager, was about to close the safe in the drug store in the Marquette Hotel, two armed men entered and took from the safe between $500 and $600 and a box containing private papers of the proprietor, J. P. Nelson. A clerk and two guests of the hotel were in the store at the time.

Two other holdups last evening were by pairs of armed men. One was at the grocery of Henry Schroeder, 2631 St. Louis avenue, where $74 was taken from the cash register and $50 from a clerk, William Macfield. Schroeder, his wife and a customer were present, too.
These men were masked. The other case was the coal office of James Farr, 825 South Twenty-

'HELL'S BELLS' AUDIENCE SEES REAL SHOOTING AND WOUNDING

Actor Uses Loaded Revolver by Mistake and Bullet Hits Another Member of Cast.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The curtain was about to rise on the second act of "Hell's Bells" in Wal-lack's Theater last night when Eddie Garvie, who plays the role of Doc O'Donnell, noticed the property pistol had been mislaid.

He found another revolver on a table back stage. He examined and thought it unloaded. A scene opened in which he holds a throng of mining folk at bay. As the throne surged toward him Garvie pointed the revolver and pulled the trigger.

He had overlooked one bullet in the weapon. It struck Clinton Self, one of the cast, in the right arm.
As Self fell Shirley Booth, an actress, screamed, startling the audience.

Manager Duffell immediately lowered the curtain and explained the reason to the audience. Arrival of an ambulance from New York hospital attracted several hundred excited persons and reports spread along Broadway that holdup men had shot the theater's treasurer. Self, not seriously wounded, was taken to the hospital. The performance was resumed after a delay of about 20 minutes.

Garvie is not supposed to shoot the gun, merely to threaten with it in the action of the play and declared he did not know why he had pulled the trigger.

ESTIMATES ON IMMIGRATION Fewer Than 100,000 Persons Added in Six Months Under New Law.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Analyzing figures obtained from the Labor Department covering the first six months' operation of the new immigration law, its author,
Chairman Johnson, of the House Immigration Committee, estimated that the total immigration for the current fiscal year would be about half of the net immigration for the preceding 12 months.

Johnson said that Mexican immigration has dropped 60 per cent and Canadian more than 28 per cent, with Germany furnishing the greatest number of European immigrants and the Irish Free State second in this category. Deportations have doubled, he said, and the exodus of aliens to Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Hungary,
Italy, Lithuania, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Spain, Yugoslavia, Armenia, China, India, Japan, Persia and Syria has been greater by 22, 000 than the immigration from those countries. Fewer than 100, 000 persons were added to the population through immigration in the first six months of the new law's operation, of whom 38,374 came from Great Britain and Germany, it was shown.

Choosing Well-Secured Bonds

Q Have you the time or the facilities to make your own investigation of each security you buy—to appraise values—to check legality of titles and mortgages?

Q The answer, in most cases, is bound to be "No." You must rely largely upon investigations made by others—usually investment dealers.

Q But there is one precaution you should take: Choose your investment dealer with care.

Q For thirty-five years, the Mississippi Valley Trust Company has dealt in well-secured bonds. It has offered its custom-

OPERATIONS OF TWO NIEDRINGHAUS POOLS DESCRIBED

W. G. Maguire Gives Deposition in Suit for Receiver for Investment Company.

TELLS OF DEALS ON WALL STREET

Manager of One of the Syndicates Guessed Market Wrong and It Lost Money, He Testifies.

The flavor of Wall Street was in a deposition given here yesterday by W. G. Maguire in the receivership suit of Mrs. Oliver B. Niedringhaus against the William F. Niedringhaus Investment Co.

Maguire, who is manager for the receiver of the St. Louis Coke and Iron Co., testified about the operations of two syndicates formed to trade in stock of the $25,000,000 National Enameling and Stamping Co., with the object of retaining control of the company for the Niedringhaus interests.

Membership of the first pool, known as the Langdon Syndicate in honor of its manager, P. D. Langdon, a New York stock broker, included George W. Niedringhaus, president of both the National Co. and the investment company, the investment company and Maguire. These three also were members of the second pool, the Naroma Syndicate, whose manager is J. F. Moran.

Tells of Speculation. According to Maguire, the Langdon Syndicate was "wrecked" and the Naroma, which succeeded it, made profits. Maguire said George W. Niedringhaus placed 3000 shares of National common, par $100 a share, in the original pool, and the investment company placed 4000, and later the investment company turned an additional 5000. Quoted as to the purpose of the plan, made in March, 1922, Maguire said:

"The manager of the syndicate expressed the market wrong. He took a short position and sold in to a bag and when the time came to deliver he couldn't. The pool was short about 17,000 shares—in other words, we sold about 17,000 more than we had."

"The stock was at a premium on the Street. The manager wanted to make it appear the stock was plentiful, so he got in touch with Mr. Niedringhaus and arranged the loan of 5000 shares. The stock was then selling around 26 1/2 to 27 1/2. A security for the loan we posted a $200,000 check—$40 for each of the 5000 shares—at the Chemical National Bank."

Stock Loaned on Market. The stock was loaned out on the market to cover short accounts, Maguire continued. It was returned to the investment company in about three months, and the $200,000 check was taken back. Asked if Niedringhaus personally had received any compensation for the loan, Maguire said Niedringhaus had received a personal loan of money at that time from the syndicate, but not for the shares. Subsequently Maguire said his memory was not clear on this point.

Asked if the syndicate had continued its activity to its stated purpose, Maguire said:

"The Naroma Syndicate was organized in June, 1922, to 'salvage' the 'wreck' of the Langdon. Maguire continued. He admitted the Naroma now has money in its treasury, but he pointedly refused to tell how much."

"Isn't it a fact the Naroma Syndicate now has $270,000 to $300,000 cash in its treasury?"

An objection to the question being sustained, Maguire did not answer.

"Family Stock" Tied Up. Maguire also testified that George W. Niedringhaus personally placed 400 shares of National common with Langdon for trading, and later called on Maguire and asked him to "go after Langdon and get it back." Maguire said he did his "best," but Niedringhaus so far has only 300 shares of common and 600 shares of preferred to show for his original 4200 of common—the 600 preferred being held as collateral against the return of 3700 common, still due.

"Containing the source of the 4200 shares, Maguire testified Niedringhaus had told him this was the 'family stock' borrowed from members of his family."

"What is Naroma doing now?" Maguire was asked, toward the end of the deposition.

"Well," he replied, with a smile, "it has the start of a fine family."

The deposition was taken before Commissioner Henry A. French, Federal Reserve Bank Building, George W. Niedringhaus, who has previously given his deposition, will be recalled in a few days.

BILL FOR UNIVERSITY CITY AMPHITHEATER INTRODUCED

Referred to Public Welfare Committee After an Open Hearing.

An ordinance amending the University City zoning law, to permit the construction of the amphitheater for dramatic and musical performances planned by Flint Harrison and associates, was introduced in the Board of Aldermen of the suburb last night. It was referred to the Public Welfare Committee, which is expected to report on it next Wednesday.

The board held a public hearing on the subject last night, at which both desire and opposition for the amendment and the amphitheater were expressed. The opposition was by some residents of the immediate vicinity of the site, which is at Olive Street road and the Creve Coeur tracks, and one of the spokesmen represented the North University City Improvement Association. They feared the place might become like the old type of summer garden. Other property owners of the vicinity advocated the project, which was explained by Harrison, who is general manager of the Fashion Pageant.

Under the zoning law the site is in three different zones, but would have to be made entirely business zone to permit of the project.

"TRUSTIES" SLUG WORKHOUSE GUARD AND TWO ESCAPE

Third Prisoner Who Made Attack Is Recaptured One Block From the Prison.

Three "trusties" at City Workhouse slugged a guard at 3:30 p. m. yesterday and escaped from the institution. Two of the men are still at large. The third was captured a block from the workhouse and returned, to suffer solitary confinement and a diet of bread and water.

The guard, Daniel J. Hines, of 1315 South Thirteenth street, had opened a gate to permit a delivery wagon to leave the grounds when he was struck on the head from behind and knocked down. The three "trusties" ran out, while Hines called for help. Other guards ran out, firing many shots, and a block north of the workhouse one of the fugitives, R. B. O'Mara, 25 years old, threw up his hands and surrendered.

The two who got away are Frank Whitechurch, 27, who was serving six months for obtaining money under false pretenses, and Edward McNally, 22, serving one year for picking pockets. When arrested they gave Chicago addresses.

According to Maguire, the Langdon Syndicate was "wrecked" and the Naroma, which succeeded it, made profits. Maguire said George W. Niedringhaus placed 3000 shares of National common, par $100 a share, in the original pool, and the investment company placed 4000, and later the investment company turned an additional 5000. LINCOLN'S ANGER AT OWN IGNORANCE LED TO EDUCATION

Dr. J. H. Finley Reveals Interview in Which Emancipator Told Secret of His Knowledge.

'BOUNDED' THOUGHTS ON ALL SIDES

Admitted Only Year's Schooling, But Told of Sleepless Nights Solving Meanings of Things.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 12.—Irritation at talk he couldn't understand was the driving impulse that gave Abraham Lincoln an education. Dr. John H. Finley of New York City, related today at public Lincoln commemoration in the Sangamon County Circuit Court room, which housed the Legislature in which Lincoln served as member. Dr. Finley added this new detailed information regarding Lincoln in telling of an interview which Lincoln gave Dr. John C. Gulliver, who preceded Finley as president of Knox College in Galesburg, Ill.

"As to education," Abraham Lincoln was quoted, "the newspapers are correct—I never went to school more than 12 months in my life. But I can say this, that among my earliest recollections, I remember how, when a mere child, I used to get irritated when anybody talked to me in a way I could not understand. I don't think I ever got angry at anything else in my life. But that always disturbed my temper and has ever since. I can remember going to my little bedroom, after rehearsing the neighbors talk of an evening, with my father, and spending no small part of the night waking up and down, and trying to make out the exact meaning of some of their, to me, dark sayings."

Idons Drove Away Sleep. "I could not sleep, though I often tried to, when I got on such a hunt after an idea until I had caught it, and when I thought I had got it, I was not satisfied until I had re-read it over and over, until I had put it in language plain enough to me."

I thought, for any boy I knew to comprehend.

"This was a kind of passion with me, and it has since stuck by me, for I am never easy now, when I am handling a thought, till I have bounded it north and bounded it south, and bounded it east and west. Perhaps that accounts for the characteristic you observe in my speeches, though I put things together before."

"Yes, I read law, as the phrase is. Your question reminds me of a bit of education I had, which I am bound in honesty to mention. I thought, at first, that I understood the meaning of 'demonstration,' but soon became satisfied that I did not. I consulted Webster's dictionary. That told of certain proof, 'proof beyond possibility of doubt,' but I could form no idea of what sort of proof that was. At night a great many things were proved beyond a possibility of doubt, without recourse to any such extraordinary process of reasoning as I understood 'demonstration' to be. At last I said 'Lincoln, you can never make a lawyer if you do not understand what 'demonstrate' means. And I went home and stayed there, until I could give any proposition in the six books of Euclid at sight. I then found out what 'demonstrate' means and went back to my law studies."

Dr. Finley then quoted Dr. Gulliver, Lincoln's interviewer, as saying, "I could not refrain from saying in my admiration for such a development of character and genius combined. Mr. Lincoln, your success is no longer a mystery. It has been the result of adequate causes. You deserve it all, and a great deal more. If you will permit me, I would like to use this fact publicly. It will be most valuable in inspiring our young men with that patient, classical and mathematical culture which most minds absolutely require. No man can talk unless he is able, first of all, to define to himself what he is talking about. Euclid well studied, would free the world of half its calamities, by banishing half the nonsense which now deludes and curses it. I have often thought 'but Euclid would be one of the best books to put on the catalogue of the tract societies if they could be made to get people to read it. It would be a means of grace.'"

"I think so," said Lincoln. I vote for Euclid."

MOZART'S 'PRETENDED STUPID' VIENNA, Feb. 12.—The recent opera, "Lafinto Semipre," composed by Mozart in 1773, when he was 12 years old, was performed here Tuesday night and was given an enthusiastic reception.

The opera was written by order of Emperor Joseph II, but never was produced, owing to the intrigues of the Vienna composers of the day, who feared their fame would be eclipsed by the boy genius.

MESSANGER HOLDUP SUSPECT IDENTIFIED IN ANOTHER CASE

Edward O'Brien Said to Have Fired at Policeman in Hamilton Hotel.

Edward O'Brien, 22 years old, one of six persons held in connection with the theft of $7600 cash from a negro bank messenger who was slugged on a Hodiamont car Tuesday, has been identified late yesterday as the robber who fired at Patrolman Charles Sanders during an attempted holdup of the Hamilton Hotel office Feb. 9. The identification was made yesterday by Hugh E. Carr, clerk of the hotel, but the patrolman could not confirm it.

Patrolman Charles Sanders is not related to Patrolman Louis Sanders, whose vigilance resulted in the capture of Edward O'Brien and William O'Brien, 29, who were released in an apartment at 222 Clara avenue, with $2500 of the stolen money, a few hours after the robbery.

The grand jury this afternoon will hear evidence which the police department has gathered in its investigation. Among the new developments is the identification of Edward O'Brien and John Ryan, 22, a bus driver, as two of the men seen running from the street car after the holdup. Ryan was arrested when he appeared at the flat after the raid, by detectives secreted within, as were William O'Brien's wife and another man. The owner of an automobile seized as the one used in the holdup appeared yesterday and sought to prove that his car was in a repair shop at the time of the holdup. He is held for further investigation.

HOLDS TOLL-BRIDGE PROPOSAL TO BE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 12.—The courts have gone a long way in sanctioning stealthy departures from constitutional procedure in the raising of revenue, but it is obvious that a last procedure will be called some where on the line, Assistant Attorney-General Crowder stated today in an opinion, declaring unconstitutional a proposal of the State Highway Commission to purchase toll bridges across the Missouri River and pay for them by bond issues, to be retired by continuing the toll charges on the bridges.

Highway toll bridges now are at St. Charles, Jefferson City and Kansas City. There are no more highway bridges across the Missouri River at those points.

The commission had asked if it would be legal for the State to collect tolls upon the bridges until the State was reimbursed for the money spent in acquiring them.

Crowder held that in form the collection of the tolls would be an excise tax but their real purpose would be the raising of revenue. Such a tax for the purpose of raising revenue would not be legal, he stated, and any proposal to levy toll charges for no other purpose than to reimburse the State for its outlay in acquiring the bridges would be of doubtful validity.

PUBLIC HEARING HERE ON 1925 TAX ASSESSMENT

State Tax Commission Announces That Session Will Be Held on Feb. 26.

City officials were notified yesterday by the State Tax Commission that a public hearing would be held in St. Louis, Feb. 26, to give taxpayers an opportunity to express their views on real and personal property assessments for 1925.

The notice states that the board is equalizing taxes for 1925, in preparation of a report to the State Board of Equalization, and that the week of Feb. 23 has been set aside for hearings in various parts of the State. Last year a 29 per cent increase in the personal property and corporate assessments in St. Louis caused considerable criticism. It being charged that the taxpayers were not notified of the increase or given an opportunity to be heard. This increase added $281,446 to the city's tax bill.

CALLS RIOT VICTIMS 'HEROES'

By the Associated Press. MARSEILLES, France, Feb. 12.—Bishop Champavier of Marseilles, has addressed a letter to the members of his diocese, commenting on the rioting here Monday night when two persons were killed and many injured. The disturbance followed an attempt of Communists to break up a meeting of the newly organized Catholic party in Marseilles. The communication will be read in all the churches Sunday.

Referring to the two men who lost their lives, Mons. Champavier's letter says: "The church still has her heroes. She had them during the persecution in the last century. Here are two at the beginning of this new century."

The letter pays homage to the priests and Catholics who were injured in the rioting and thanks them "for suffering publicly for their God and holy church."

Heart Disease Caused Nagel's Death.

An inquest verdict of death by heart disease was returned today in the case of Frank Nagel, 41 years old, of 223 Canaan avenue, who died suddenly yesterday on a southbound Broadway street car at Taylor avenue. Nagel was taken to the morgue where he was later identified by members of his family. He was a concrete worker.

CHLORINE

Now at Drug Stores

The world's leading medical authorities recognize chlorine as the most effective agent ever known for treating colds and other surface respiratory diseases. Its discovery for this purpose was a triumph of science. Until recently, however, this treatment was obtainable only at hospitals and with special equipment. But science has scored another achievement in making chlorine treatment easily available to anybody. It has created a chlorine ointment, known as Chlorine Respirine, which when applied to the nostrils liberates pure chlorine gas which the act of breathing carries directly to the inflamed, diseased membranes. No more efficient method could possibly be invented. You can now treat yourself anywhere at any time and have the most effective protection against these common and serious diseases at the cost of only about a cent per treatment.

Knocks a Cold in 3 Hours

Chlorine Respirine, which any druggist can supply, gives you the same pure chlorine gas as recommended by Health Departments and U. S. authorities. You feel the effect at once and you end a cold in three hours. Have this remarkable, scientific discovery ready for use in colds, bronchitis, laryngitis, whooping cough and other surface respiratory diseases. Use it also as a preventative of these diseases. Tube containing 50 treatments costs only 50 cents. Ask your druggist for it today.

WHEELING OIL HEATER

This Oil Heater will prove to be your best friend if a cold wave strikes here!

If it turns cold suddenly you need not worry about coal shortage if you have this heater in the house. Many people up north go through extremely cold weather during coal and gas shortages with none other than the Wheeling Heaters to warm entire houses.

Should the temperature fall tonight, you can light a Wheeling Oil Heater and heat any room and have real comfort, no chill, no danger. You can carry it where you will. You can refill its removable oil compartment with safety and without soiling the hands. You can replace the wicks—they last for weeks—also without trouble. Plenty of good wholesome heat, no odor, with illumination, too, that adds cheer on dark days and at night.

Prepare for the Cold Snap That Comes Without Warning

Drop into our store and see this Wheeling Oil Heater, that heats on the scientific reflection principle—gives you action the minute you light it. It will cost you little money to own one and be prepared for any emergency; it will cost but a trifle to keep it going for it burns continuously for 12 hours on one filling of oil. We have seen many heaters, and sold them, too, but here is an oil heater that heats, light and cooks—it gives you all the heat you want, and when you want it.

$3,500,000 for Railroad Equipment.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 12.—The Frisco Railroad will spend approximately $3,500,000 for the purchase and repair of equipment this year, President Kurn announced yesterday. New equipment will include five mountain type oil-burning locomotives, 15 Mikado type coal-burning locomotives, 20 other locomotives, and 10 steel baggage cars. In addition the railroad will expend approximately $1,000,000 in rebuilding freight cars.

ROTOR SHIP OUTPOINTS SISTER SHIP WITH SPREAD OF CANVAS
Engineers of Opinion New Type of Craft Is Able to Get More Power Out of Wind

By JAMES B. WHARTON.
Copyright, 1925, United States, Canada, American and Newspaper Alliance. It is Great Britain by Manchester Guardian, London; by Boston Herald, in Denmark by Politiken; in Germany by Rueda Norddeutsche, Kiel, Feb. 12.—Due to the last-minute discovery of a slight damage in the exhaust pipe of the Diesel motor, carried by the rotor ship Buckau, the vessel's departure for Scotland has again been delayed. She may leave Friday morning, certainly not earlier.

How the rotor ship outpoints the old-time canvas-rigged vessel was evidenced here when the Annen, three-masted sister ship of the Buckau, came into port and tied up beside her "rotorship" relative. Both ships are of the same size, draft and tonnage, but the Annen carries a canvas expanse of about 900 square meters, while the cross-section of both the Buckau's rotors measures but a square foot.

TWO HEIRS AMONG MISSING PERSONS SOUGHT HERE Money Awaits A. H. V. Moenning and Fred Keiser Jr.—Daughter Hunts for Father.

Two persons being sought in St. Louis are heirs to estates, according to letters from relatives.

There is $800 awaiting A. H. V. Moenning if he can be found. Ben Moenning, a brother, at Quincy, Ill., wrote he had not heard from his brother in 10 years, and the last time was from St. Louis. Fred Keiser Jr., about 27 years old, is the sole heir to an estate left by his foster-father at Duquoin, Ill.

The foster-parent died Jan. 17. A letter says young Keiser was a telegraph operator and was working here when last heard from.

St. Louis relatives of Charles Leonard, who killed himself at Laredo, Tex., Jan. 22, are being sought. Papers on Leonard's person indicated he had been in the army. He was 29 years old.

Mrs. August L. Cagel of Kenosha, Wis., has asked St. Louis authorities to find her father, Joseph Dandean, who, in 1910, lived here at 2411 North Newstead avenue.

Relatives of a man known as Victor Rhodes, 70 years old, are being sought at the request of the Sheriff of Pecos, Tex. The Sheriff wrote that Rhodes shot and killed himself in the courthouse at Pecos Feb. 5 and is supposed to have relatives in St. Louis.

TELLS OF PRIVILEGES GIVEN 'RUM RING' AT ATLANTA
Acting Deputy Warden Testifies Against Deposed Officials of Institution.

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 12.—Capt. John H. Madden, acting Deputy Warden of the Atlanta Federal penitentiary, today testified in the trial of A. E. Sartain and L. J. Fletcher, deposed officials of the institution, and Laurence Riehl, Columbus, Ga., charged with conspiracy and bribery, that special privileges were given members of the Savannah "rum ring" at the prison.

Among these prisoners, he said, were Willie Haar, U. C. Tuten, Graham Baughn and Fred Haar Sr. Madden said he had been an

LIGHT PEACH CROP PREDICTED BECAUSE OF COLD SPELLS
Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas Will Be Affected by Extreme Weather, Canvass Shows.

Recent cold spells in the Middle West will result in a light peach crop this year in Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas, according to responses received in a canvass by a local produce company.

The College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri reported that the peach crop in Central and Northern Missouri would suffer because of the cold wave six weeks ago, but a good crop is expected in Southern Missouri, particularly in Howell and Oregon counties.

Apples, strawberries, grapes and blackberries will not be affected by the extreme weather.

Illinois agricultural officials reported many peach buds had been killed. In the vicinity of Carbondale from 35 to 60 per cent live buds are reported. The Arkansas State Plant Board estimated that peaches will run from one-third to one-half the usual crop.

KILLS HIMSELF BY PRESSING SHOTGUN TRIGGER WITH POKER
William Groves Ends His Life Seated in Chair; $5000 in Deposits Checks in Effort

William Groves, 50 years old, of 1712A South Ninth street, shot and killed himself at his home yesterday afternoon. A neighbor heard the shot and investigated.

He had seated himself in a chair, placed a shotgun, with its butt against the wall, and on a bed next to him, aimed the gun at his chest and pressed the trigger with a poker.

Among his effects were found five time deposit checks, four on St. Louis banks and one on a Hermann (Mo.) bank, totaling $5000. Groves is said to have come from Hermann. No reason for his suicide is known.

At Meal Time Snap Into It

Your Box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Enables You to Face a Big Banquet with Delight.

Those grouchy dyspeptics who throw a fit when food is fried can find a fit in the good graces of the family circle by the simple expedient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. One or two at meal time not only aid digestion but stop acid fermentation, clear away the gasiness, lift off the bloated feeling, and heartburn and make the stomach carry with ease the foods that used to apparently cause dyspeptic dandyness.

These tablets sweeten the stomach of a dyspeptic by giving it the alkaline effect as in health. Thus whether you eat corned beef and cabbage, pork sausage, mince pie, buckwheats, baked beans, or other table horrors, you laugh at all fear and once again enjoy the freedom of a good meal in good company. Get a 60 cent box today of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and these tell dyspepsia to go hang.

Night Coughing Stopped Quickly by Simple Treatment

Thousands who are troubled with persistent coughing at night, which by robbing them of valuable sleep weakens their systems and lays them open to dangerous infections, can quickly act to prevent this danger through a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest at all on account of coughing spells have found they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often the first time they try it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and breaks the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is you usually sleep soundly the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

Physicians recommend Waller's Oil. It is used in hospital practice, and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a brush as directed until the swell-

CONVICTED MAN FREED
AFTER PRAYER IN COURT

Ex-Policeman's Plea Leads to Inquiry by Judge, Who Finds
He Is Innocent.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Justice is not deaf or blind, though she may be dumb. Three weeks ago a jury in Kings County Court found Edward F. Whalen, once a policeman, guilty of robbery in the first degree. With a previous sentence against him of five years in Sing Sing for extortion, the conviction meant at least 20, and possibly 40, more years behind prison bars for Whalen.

It is no wonder, then, that for a moment the verdict stunned him, or that when attendants prodded him into the return march to his cell he moved apathetically.
Suddenly the prisoner twisted from the grasp of his guards and in the center of the room turned to face the judge and jury. His eyes sought a crucifix clutched in his upraised hand.
"I swear before Almighty God I am innocent of this crime," he prayed. "I don't know anything about it." Then he was taken from the room.

Innocence Established.
Yesterday he returned for sentence. The prosecutor, Asst. Attorney District Attorney Francis X.
Googhan, rose to address Justice
George W. Martin.
"Your honor," began Googhan,
"at the trial of this defendant I submitted and strengthened with all the proof I had the evidence against him. That evidence showed this man's guilt and I felt the jury's verdict was a just one."
"In his appeal for relief in his innocence, however, there was something that aroused in me suspicion, and I therefore moved his conviction be set aside, the indictment dismissed and the prisoner set at liberty."
A few minutes later Whalen walked out, bearing with him, virtually, a quarter century of added life. "Had his conviction been upheld, that would have been my sentence," the court explained.

EDISON, AT 78, DESPAIRS OF

Young Men Take No Advice, Girls Are a Mystery, Says Inventor on Birthday.
By the Associated Press.
PORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 12.— Young men take no advice and young women are a mystery, was Thomas Edison's birthday observation yesterday when he observed his seventy-eighth anniversary and he refrained from offering advice to the men or a solution to the mystery of the young women.
Edison was brief but emphatic in his answers concerning the younger generation. They are showing no improvement in manners, he said, expressing the belief also that American educational standards have shown no improvement since the issuance of his questionnaire several years ago which proved such a nightmare to applicants for places in his establishment.
He expressed himself emphatically in favor of the world court, urging that "it have something behind it to enforce its decrees." Otherwise it would be useless, he felt.
"If we had a world court and all the nations contribute their quota of police power to enforce its decrees, it may prevent war altogether, or at least prevent them from becoming of great magnitude," he said.
Opolide is an ideal President, he said, expressing the hope that the third party is dead.
Robt Safe While Customers Dine.

employees served customers in the front of the Harwood restaurant here during the dinner hour last night, a robber rifled the safe in the rear of the establishment and made off with more than $400.

Two weeks ago three robbers entered the Harwood restaurant in the evening and shot and killed
Mark Gallemore, an employee.

40 Kinds of Pain quickly stopped in this way

There are countless pains which one can stop—stop them in a moment. The pains allied to rheumatism, to sore-

Millions of people have done this, and for 65 years, by rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil. They have saved cons of suffering. It is folly not to do this the moment a pain appears.
St. Jacobs Oil acts in two ways. First, it causes coun-countless pains. Then it brings the blood to the surface to relieve the congestion which causes other pains and

If we fail, it costs you nothing.
Over 800,000 men have made

Science has recently made amazing discoveries in hair treatment.
We have proven that while 4 in 7 are either bald, or partly bald, at 40, only about nine in a hundred need ever be bald. Hair roots seldom die from natural causes. They can be revived.
We have proved this by regrow-ing hair on 91 heads in 100.
Highest authorities approve this new way. Great dermatologists now employ it—many charge as much as $300.00 for similar basic treatment. Baldness is a symptom of a disease. It is most frequently a symptom of infection of the scalp oil (Sebum).

Infected Sebum
Sebum is an oil. It forms at the follicles of the hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil.
But it often becomes infected. It clogs on the scalp; clogs the follicles and plugs them. Germs by the millions then start to feed upon the hair. Semi-baldness comes first; then comes total baldness.
But remove that infection and your hair grows again.

WASHINGTON MEETS KANSAS TONIGHT WITH FIRST PLACE AT STAKE

Jayhawkers Are Slight Favorites But Pikers' Superior Speed May Win

Comparative Showing Against Oklahoma Indicates Kansas Has the Stronger Machine — Each Team Has Lost One Game.

The Washington University and the University of Kansas basketball teams will clash tonight in one of the most important games of the Missouri Valley Conference season. The contest, which will be played at the Coliseum, will start at 8:30 o'clock.

The invading Jayhawkers, with a record of seven victories and one defeat, are in first place. The Pikers, with five victories and one defeat, are tied for second place with the University of Nebraska.

By winning tonight's game, the Pikers can gain undisputed possession of first place in the ranking, at the same time dropping the Jayhawkers into third place.

A victory over Kansas tonight would assure the Pikers of having the best prospect of winning the championship. Kansas, however, is generally favored to win. The Jayhawkers, overconfident and caught off-guard early in the season, were defeated by the Kansas Aggies, but since then Coach Allen's men have been traveling at a fast clip and have been bowling over all rivals in impressive fashion.

Comparative Scores. — The Oklahoma games afford a basis for comparing the two teams. The comparison does not favor the Pikers. Late last month Washington lost a close game to Oklahoma at Norman by a 26-25 score. Two days later the Sooners scored the Kansas stronghold and were defeated, 34 to 20. Thus, in the "dope," the Jayhawkers should beat the Pikers by about 14 points, but it is safe to assume that no bats will be made on the basis of such figures.

In fact, a Washington victory tonight will be far from a shock. The Pikers have been exhibiting a stellar brand of play this season and on more than one occasion are given performances of outstanding brilliance. The Piker squad is in excellent physical condition.

The probable lineups: Washington U. Post, Akerman, Miner, ... Kansas U. Post, Akerman, Miner, ...

Nurmi to Try for New Records Tonight In 1 1/4 Mile Event

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 12.—
A. A. V. NURMI tonight will attempt to shatter world's records for one and one-quarter miles and 1500 meters in a special one and one-quarter mile race here.

Ray Watson, Illinois A. C., will try to shatter his own 500-meter world record, and also will try to establish a new 600-meter mark. He will be opposed by Allan Heinrich of Penn State and Manny Lochmicht of Buffalo.

Willie Plant, pedestrian champion, is entered in the two-mile walk.

Billikens Score An Easy Victory Over Drury Five

W. Bradburn Suffers Knee Injury Which May Keep Him Out for Season.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 12.—
St. Louis University won its fourteenth victory of the season by defeating Drury College Panthers here last night, 29 to 10, in a well played game.

Drury opened the scoring with a free throw and followed with a goal from the field. St. Louis then shot three straight baskets to gain a lead that was never in danger.

St. Louis presented the best defense seen on a local court in several years. The playing of W. and V. Bradburn featured throughout.

W. Bradburn injured his right knee during final minutes of play and Coach Savage stated following a medical examination that the veteran forward would probably be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

Paavo Nurmi's Life Story

AS TOLD TO
CHARLES E. PARKER

CHAPTER XII.
KING OF THE OLYMPICS.

ALTHOUGH his 1923 triumph over Elvin Wide—a triumph that brought phenomenal records for the 1500-meter and the one mile runs—gave Paavo Nurmi the superlative thrill of his career and brought him the records he regards as the most noteworthy on his imposing list, he does agree that his Olympic achievement at Colombes last July is worth somewhat more than passing mention.

With other athletes no item would be omitted. (Not so with Paavo, however. He hurries through his numberless triumphs over fellow countrymen in Abo, Helsinki and Viborg and dismisses with a nod a list of Finnish national records such as no native of that northern nation ever held. He has merely an "Oh, yes," when asked of sensational international conquests in Paris, London, Stockholm and other European centers—conquests in which he vanquished the greatest runners of those nations in middle and long distance runs and steeplechases. As for his world's record races and standing against his name are the outdoor marks for 12 of the standard distances as well as many more for odd distances—Paavo believes a recitation of the figures set and the place and date should suffice.

But the Colombes Olympic performance is admitted by him to be a bit out of the ordinary.

"Yes," Paavo agrees, "the last Olympic games did mean much to me. They gave me satisfaction. I worked long and hard in my preparations, for Finland, though small, had high hopes of surpassing even America. I created no new world's records, but I did make three Olympic marks and lived well up to the expectations of my countrymen."

Great Olympic Record.

Thus, mildly, does Paavo picture the seven days of competition against the finest athletes the world could produce, in the course of which and under the most trying conditions he won the Olympic 1500-meter run, 5000-meter run, 1000-meter cross-country run and 3000-meter team race, contributing three individual first places and serving as the chief factor in earning two team first places, or a total of 50 points to Finland's tally.

ILLINOI AND NOTRE DAME IN DUAL MEET SATURDAY

By the Associated Press.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Feb. 12.—Twenty-five members of the University of Illinois track squad with Coach Harry Gill and Manager G. L. Haines, will depart at 7:29 Saturday morning for South Bend, Ind., where the Illini Big Ten track champions of 1924 will open their 1925 season Saturday in a dual meet with Notre Dame.

Coach Gill will lead a veteran squad against Notre Dame as 17 of the 25 men making the trip were members of the championship squad of last season.

St. Matthews and Fairmounts in Feature Game

Municipal Soccer Title Series Open Sunday With Four Contests.

The most promising game of the first round of elimination matches for the municipal soccer championship, to be played Sunday, is the contest between the St. Matthews and Fairmount clubs to be played at Sherman Park.

The Henses will oppose the St. Matthews in another interesting match, but the third game of the draw, that which brings together the Kenricks and the Koels, does not equal the others in point of general interest.

Drawings for the series were held at the office of William P. Yorgor, Director of Recreation, yesterday afternoon. Seven group champions in the senior division, and two junior clubs figured in the draw. The Vag club, champions of Group 4 at Fairground, drew a bye.

The St. Matthews, Henses and Kenricks are expected to advance to the second round, which will be played Sunday, Feb. 22.

Pairings for the first round are as follows:

SENIORS.
Henses (Sherman Park) vs. St. Matthews (Fairground No. 2).
Kenrick (Fairground No. 3) vs. Koels (Carondelet Park).
Fairmounts (Manchester Park) vs. St. Matthews (Fairground No. 2).
JUNIORS.
Paganos vs. St. Francis de Sales at Fairground No. 4.

PENNANT TIMBER

By Herman Wicke

No. 3.—The Giants.

TWO players who have had experience as minor league managers, will be in the crop of recruits to be taken South by the New York Giants. They are Walker, an outfielder, and Devine, a catcher. Walker last season managed the Rock Mount club and sold himself to McGraw. Devine, a catcher, handled the Newark club of the International League for a period.

Walker last season topped the Virginia League in hitting with an average of .371, and also showed the way in base-stealing with 30 thefts to his credit. He made 16 hits in 532 attempts, scored 116 runs and pounded out 16 home runs. Devine hit .324 in the International.

Another veteran will try to win a berth on McGraw's catching staff. He is none other than Grover Hartley, who starred with the old St. Louis Federals. Hartley hit .319 with Toledo. Another 300 swatter obtained by McGraw from the minors is Crump, a pitcher and outfielder from Portsmouth. He swatted .302 and made 16 four-baggers.

Among the pitchers McGraw will try are Slim McGraw, who failed several times with the Senators, but who last season won 15 and lost but 5 with Memphis, and Wisner, a big right-hander, who was purchased from the Cardinals club. Others are Baldwin, Greenfield, McCullough, Bradshaw and Manners.

McGraw's list of recruits does not include a single infielder.

AGNES GERAGHTY SETS NEW SWIMMING RECORD

By the Associated Press.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 12.—
A new national record of 27 1-5 seconds for the 50-yard breast stroke event stood today and Helen Wainwright of New York and Sybil Bauer of Chicago retained their titles in the 250-yard and 100-yard back stroke events, respectively, after the second day of the five-day aquatic meet here yesterday.

Agnes Geraghty was the holder of the new record she set yesterday when she broke her previous record set at Miami last year by two-fifths of a second.

The feature exhibition of the day was by Miss Wainwright when she overcame a seemingly hopeless lead of Ethel Lackie of Chicago, 100-meter Olympic champion, in a dazzling burst of speed, and passed her five yards from the finish and defeated the Chicago girl by two yards.

Miss Bauer had little competition in her event and won easily. Alleen Riehl of New York came in second with Dorothy Clark, Detroit, third.

NOG TRADE SLOW UN

DECLINES ELSEWHERE

Market Rules Steady—Cattle Receipts Light—Sheep Run Small.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Feb. 12.—Estimated receipts today: Cattle and calves 2600; hogs, 500; sheep, 400; horses and mules, 150.

CATTLE.—Fresh arrivals today were very light, although there were some holdovers from Wednesday and the offering was more than enough for trade requirements. Beef steers were slow, but offered steady with the week's decline, although further weakness was recorded in beef cows and light steers and heifers. Bulls, canner and ter cows and stocker stuff continued about in line with the previous day. In veal calves the average was 25c higher, top $11.50 and bulk of desirable offerings $11.00 to $11.50.

CATTLE FOR WEEK— Cows generally 50c to 75c lower except in low-priced kinds. Good stock and good kinds the loss is heavier and amounts to 25c. A few choice, handy-weight kinds which are steady, light steers and heifers reflect a 50c to 75c depreciation.

Beef cows are 50c lower, than a week ago or 50c to 75c under. Monday and Tuesday there is a slight increase and change in canner and cutter cows and bulls average strong.

Veal calves are $1 lower than the close last week.

QUOTATIONS — Beef steers range, $5 to $12.50; beef cows, range, $3.75 to $6.50; cutter cows, range, $2.75 to $5; calves, range, $4 to $5; heifers, range, $4 to $5;ologna bulls, range, $4 to $5; steer and feeders

HOGS—The run fell off sharply today at this point, the estimate calling for only 3000 head. Liberal offerings elsewhere, however, had

The effect of making buyers more conservative has been to reduce the number of arrivals consisted of hogs bought on other markets and shipped here for slaughter. Trade was inclined to be slow owing to declines reported at other markets and buyers being reluctant to bid for hogs from outside buyers. Trade started out ground steady with yesterday's average on all the desirable butcher and shipping hogs, a top of $11.30 being registered for prime strong light weight. Most of the hogs were sold at the average of $10.75 to $11.20 with the lighter butchers $10.10 to $10.30 and the heavier butchers $10.70 to $11.00. The big packers were again slow to enter the market. Pig trade lacked snap. There were comparatively few orders here for pigs and while the offering was limited, salesmen reported slow going. It was mostly a steady to weak deal on all stock of this character. Good to choice 140@150 lb. pigs

WAGTAILS—Offering in this department was again lamentably light, only 400 head being estimated for the day. As part of this supply consisted of Texas lambs to a local dealer, it left not enough stock on the market to enable the dealer to handle a lot. Not enough sheep or lambs were offered to fully test values and trade was on strictly nominal basis.

Good to prime lambs are quotable at $17.75@18.50; medium to good lambs at $10@17.50. Culls and common lambs, $13@15. Skins

193. Fat ewes, $9@9.50. Year-kids, $15@16. Fat hair kids, $15 15.50. Fat angora kids, $6.50@ 7.50. Common goats, $1@2 and low sale at that range.

HORSES AND MULES—Values in this department closed strong this week, spots up $10 per ton. Receipts were not excessive.
 A small number of horses and mules and 1290 mules, the greater part of which has been disposed of in demand for some classes of horses and mules was often in excess of supply, and a liberal representation of them was offered strong competition, both on the alleys and at auctions.

Native horse quotations: Good to choice drafts, $150 @ 200; medium good drafts, $100 @ 150; good to

FLEISCHMANN LEFT

EMPLOYEES $560,000

Bulk of Yeast Millionaire's Estate Divided Equally Between Two Children.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch, NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The will of Julius Fleischmann, millionaire sportsman and yeast manufacturer, who died of heart disease on the polo field at Miami, Fla., filed at Mineola, L. I., divides the bulk of his estate equally between his son and daughter, Julius Fleischmann Jr. and Mrs. Henry Yleser Jr., both of Cincinnati, O.

Answering reports that the estate amounted to $600,000, attorneys declared "it is too early to make an estimate."

A $200,000 trust fund for such charitable or educational institutions as the trustees may see fit to designate is established. The will makes, however, "the suggestion that the major portion of the sum be distributed to charitable or educational institutions in my former home city of Cincinnati, O."

5000 Shares to Friend.

Aside from his two children, the largest individual bequest was to a friend, Joseph Wilshire, who is given outright 5000 shares of the common stock of the Fleischmann Co. This stock is quoted on the New York Exchange at $28 a share, making the market value of the 5000 shares $140,000. Wilshire is vice president of the Fleischmann Co. and lives in Greenwich, Conn.

William Fleischmann, a cousin, is given the income on a trust fund of $100,000. The executors are directed to pay this income in quarterly installments during the lifetime of the beneficiary. At his death the $100,000 is to become a part of the residuary estate.

"To certain employees" of the Fleischmann company the testator bequeaths "my brother, Max, C. Fleischmann, distribute 25,000 shares of the common stock of the Fleischmann Co." In connection with this bequest the will says: "I have fully discussed the allotment of this said stock, and he understands my wishes and desires and will see that the same are fully carried out." The market value of this stock is $560,000. Max Fleischmann is on a hunting trip in Africa and has not learned of his brother's death.

No Mention of First Wife.

The will makes no mention of the first wife, Mrs. Lilly Ackerman Fleischmann, mother of his children. At the time of his divorce, Jan. 21, 1920, it was reported he settled upon her an annuity of $25,000 a year, in addition to a cash settlement of $2,000,000 outright.

Of his second wife, Laura Hyman Fleischmann, the will says: "I have already made ample provision for her in the way of gifts of stock and securities and, as we are now living separate and apart, I make no further provision."

The will was dated Aug. 29, 1924. It was just two months following this that the second Mrs. Fleischmann became divorced in Paris. She is now the wife of Jay O'Brien. At the time of the divorce it was reported Fleischmann made a settlement upon her of $2,000,000.

$12,000 for His Servants.

In referring to his mother, his brother, Max, and his sister, Mrs. Betty Fleischmann Holmes, the will states: "As they are all possessed of abundant wealth, I make no provision for them or either of them, such provision being omitted at their request." Mrs. Henrietta Fleischmann, his mother, has since died.

The sum of $12,000 was divided among employees as follows: Frank R. Smith, captain, $5000; Walter Knutsen, valet, $1000; John Tausch, chauffeur, $3000; and John Daly, stable superintendent, $2000.

TIP TO THE HOUSEWIFE By HANNAH WING

Authority on Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

VERY woman who entertains relies upon certain creamed dishes for her guest menus.
Chicken à la king, or mushrooms oysters in the same manner, creamed meats of all kinds or nice-battered peas or other vegetables the right kind of dishes for any of these meals. But creamed dishes are likely to look rather easy when served unless they are served in patty shells. Now patty shells may be bought—in most cases—but they are not always satisfactory and are all too frequently left untouched by the guest.
They are moreover both slightly difficult and expensive to make.

There is a simple homemade substitute for the patty shell which many palates is even more delicious than the patty and which is so simple that anyone may make it at very little expense. These needling more nor less than cases cut from thick slices of bread, dipped in butter or lightly brushed with melted butter and browned.

They are generally spoken of by seasonal cooks as croutades, it may be that the name, which has a sound a bit forbidding, has come from becoming popular at the average housewife. In fact, many women will make these simple but delicious croutades full directions for making them are given below.

First, slices of bread one or two inches thick. Remove the brown crust from the bottom and sides of each slice. Cut each slice into eighths or two triangles, or if very small cases can be made. Run the blade of a sharp knife into the edge of the bread fourth inch from the edge, roll all around each case and taking care not to cut through to the center of the case.

Now run the point of the knife down one side of the slice one-fourth inch from the bottom, but not cut through the side walls.
have now loosened the center case. Lift it up gently with point of the knife blade and place it on a plate. This should leave a wide-sided box or case. Brush case over inside and out with butter and brown it in the oven or toast it. The cases may be fried in deep fat instead if desired. Keep the cases hot and ready to use. They are unusually shaped of boxes or cases made by using a cookie cutter and cutting the thick slices of bread in diamonds, circles or stars. Bread is more easily handled and holds together better for these croutades if it is slightly stale.

Almond Cream Cheese.
Make a fresh cream cheese and add a smooth, thick paste made of a little heavy cream.
Add a cupful of blanched and chopped almonds, a half teaspoonful of sugar, a two teaspoonful of sugar, a time, then rubbing with cheese cloth. Keep away fire while doing this.

SAVORY EGGS.
Boil as many eggs hard as are to be needed to serve one to a portion. When cold cut in halves, lengthwise. Remove the yolks and soften them with well-seasoned heavy mayonnaise, add a little whipped cream and beat well until blended. Fill the eggs with the filling lightly. Wet a teaspoon with cold water and turn the egg upside down in the bottom. Cut some red pepper, those in oil will do, into strips and decorate the top of the egg adding a halved caper or a thin slice of olive in the center. Dissolve a package of lemon gelatin in a pint of boiling water; when cold strain over the egg until it is coated; then set to chill. When ready to serve slip the egg onto a lettuce leaf.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS WORD PUZZLE.

Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word.

Each word reads from left to right (horizontal) or downward (vertical), according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.

Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.

Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

Put a cupful of molasses and a half cupful of butter into a small saucepan and bring it to boiling point. Remove from the fire and sift in three cupfuls of sifted flour in which a level teaspoonful each of soda and salt have been mixed. Roll out on a floured board as thin as possible, and bake in a medium oven. The wafers are very delicate. If desired, a teaspoonful of vanilla may be added, or a teaspoonful of orange flower flavoring, or a teaspoonful of ginger syrup.

NICE.—Color is not sacrificed in the woolen top coats now being worn here. For example, a long beige Kaisha coat is trimmed with deep bands of embroidery composed of narrow stripes at hem, cuffs and collar. The latter is formed of a scarf of the Roman striped embroidery.

GOOD-NIGHT STORIES

Betty Once More Changes Her Mind.

"SHOOT, that's—," began Betty, when a sharp voice interrupted her: "Be careful, which way you shoot," laughed the voice. "I'm not ready to be filled with lead," and the funny little elfin who had been hiding behind the porch pillar hopped out beside Betty. "Oh, Betty you are a great shooter, you never shoot."

"Oh Gocomeback," cried Betty. "How in the world did you happen to come here?" "You mean, where do you happen to be going?" laughed the elfin. "Well, I'm here and I'm on my way, so come along. What's the cause of the frowns and sighs?"

"I wanted to go fishing with Uncle Ben and he wouldn't let me go," replied Betty. "I was just going to wish I lived some place where I could fish all I wanted to."

"Now if that isn't funny, I'll eat my hat," laughter Gocomeback. "I was just on my way to such a place. Come along. If you like it better than you do here in America, maybe I can fix things up for you," and before Betty could ask any questions she was standing on the shores of a lovely lake in a strange land.

Out in the water, quite a good way from land, built on poles were a crowd of funny-looking little houses. They looked more like tents put up on platforms, high above the water than anything Betty could think of.

"Well, of all things, where are we, Gocomeback," she asked. "How do the folks who live there get out? Swim?" "It's either swim or go out in a canoe," laughed a merry voice. A wee little brown girl in a loose, don't have to sweep. We can shoot wild duck or fish from our very doors."

Betty held her head. The water moving under the floor made her so dizzy. She closed her eyes and when she opened them again, she was sitting on her own porch alone.

"No," she mused to herself. "I'd rather live in Good Old America. Even if I can't go fishing every time I want to. I can find something else to do, and jumping up Betty ran into the house to help her mama."

Be on your guard for signs of Pyorrhea
Just as the stability of a building is dependent upon its foundations, so healthy teeth depend upon healthy gums. Bleeding gums are the first sign of Pyorrhea's approach. Then they begin to recede and the healthy pink color gives place to a pale, whitish tint. Soon the teeth are loosened, pus pockets form and drain their poisons through the system, often causing indigestion, rheumatism, neuritis and many of the other diseases of mid-life.

Let Forhan's help you Forhan's For the Gums is a most effective agent in the fight against this insidious disease. It contains just the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent (as used by the dental profession) to neutralize oral poison, and keep the gums in a firm, strong, healthy condition. Also, it cleans and whitens the teeth and keeps the mouth sweet, clean and wholesome. Even if you don't care to discontinue your favorite dentifrice, at least start using Forhan's once a day. Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. The Man on the Sandbox

by L. Adams

THE REVUE.
To be the Mayor of our town And have a chance to gain renown, By keeping the expenses down, A flock of men are wild. A score of hats are in the ring And there'll be doings in the spring. Now everybody rise and sing: "Oh, Fireman, save my child!"

That final line we had to steal, But still we cannot help but feel, In view of its humane appeal, That we were justified. The town, indeed is fortunate, In having such an aggregate Of gents, who in this crisis great, Are moved by civic pride.

The A. L. held a meeting here, The most important of the year, And with a long and rousing cheer The schedule was O. K'd. A pleasant time was had by all. The visitors enjoyed their call Which means a brand of winning ball This summer will be played.

VERY GOOD.
Falling to buy a baseball club, Walter Johnson announces that he will return to Washington and resume his duties as a Senator. Incidentally, there are quite a number of people who consider Walter the most important Senator at the capital.

He may not have the vocabulary of some of his distinguished colleagues, but his delivery leaves nothing to be desired.

See where the Missouri Glee Club won the valley championship. A notable victory we call it.

Everybody's filling. Some are filling for Mayor and others are filling demurrers.

HOW COME?
See where Baron Gilles de Rais, who was accused of killing 800 women and children in France 500 years ago, is to get a new trial. They must have found a flaw in the indictment or something.

Although he was burned at the stake, friends of the Baron claim that he got a raw deal.

Former Premier Aquilino is to be an Earl, but he doesn't know what of. If suggestions are not out of order, we would submit the name of Earl of Pawtucket for his consideration.

DIGGING OF SHAFT RESUMED WHEN TUNNEL FAILS TO LEAD TO COLLINS

Workers Discover Opening at 50-Foot Level, but Explorers Find It Affords No Passageway.

CAPTIVE REPORTED HEARD BREATHING

Two Men Enter Passage-way Where He Is Trapped; Return With Word Groans Audible.

By the Associated Press.
CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 13.—H. T. Carmichael, in charge of operations, and others who went down into the shaft being dug towards Sand Cave, where Floyd Collins has been imprisoned for two weeks, came out of the shaft at 1 o'clock this afternoon and announced that the hope of rescuing Collins through a tunnel discovered in the shaft 50 feet down would have to be abandoned. The tunnel exploration failed to disclose a passageway.

Digging was resumed in the bottom of the shaft itself and Carmichael said that it probably would take two or three days to reach the 70-foot level, where they plan to begin lateral tunnels in an effort to strike Sand Cave.

Announcement was made this afternoon by Brigadier-General H. H. Denhardt that Ed Brenner of Cincinnati and A. Blevins had given a statement at the military court of inquiry that they heard Collins breathing at 9:45 this morning.

Say Shaft Near Passageway.
Brenner, a miner, and Blevins had been sent into the cavern for soundings from the rescue shaft. They also had gone in five hours before with Andy Blig and John Schickel of Louisville, who had reported hearing Collins cough twice. Brenner and Blevins reported penetrating the natural passage to the slide-in which last week blocked the way just ahead of the entombed cave explorer.

"I heard Collins give one long, deep gasp, like a groan," said Brenner. "It was not loud."

Brenner and Blevins tapped on the wall of the cavern and worked in the shaft tapped on the well wall. It was estimated by those in the cavern and those in the shaft that the distance between them was 10 feet.

The failure of the high hopes raised by finding of a tunnel today discouraged the officials of the rescue party, but "digging as usual" began again at once in the hope of finding a more promising cavern. The drill hole in the center of the shaft has gone to 70 feet without penetrating the limestone roof, but another more penetrable cavern may be discovered in the side wall as in the one found this morning.

The hours of exploration were tense ones for the miners and spectators, and when hope faded again, the chances of extricating Collins alive were admittedly greatly reduced. The 70-foot level, if no promising crevices are encountered on the way down, will not be reached until Tuesday, Mr. Carmichael said, because of increasing difficulties being encountered.

The depth of the shaft from the slide was 50 feet at 1 o'clock. Carmichael admitted he still clung to the hope that a cavern or tunnel will be encountered again in the side wall before the 70-foot level is reached by the shaft.

The hole discovered today was found at 1:30 a. m. and Carmichael and a doctor were awakened.

Hole 50 Feet Down.
The hole was found in the side wall at about the 50-foot mark, measuring from the low side, or feet measuring from the high side of the shaft away from the mouth of Sand Cave. In the original exploration of the diamond core, a few feet distant from the shaft, a soft spot was indicated 31 feet, and another such soft spot was shown last night, followed at least 10 feet of limestone.

Reports Collins Alive.
Andy Blig of Louisville said he and Floyd Collins cough twice at 1 o'clock this morning. Blig had gone into the main passageway to Sand Cave with several men and said that while there he heard faint coughing, called to Collins several times, but received no answer. Blig and his party recovered the mine which was used in the attempt to pull Collins from the shaft.
